Wilkie Collins.

SOMETHING ABOUT HIM—HE FIRST APPEARS IN ALBANY.

Wilkie Collins, the famous novelist, is to honor Albany with his first public appearance in America, which takes place on the evening of October 7th, and will consist of a dramatic novelette entitled "The Dream Woman, a Mystery," in two parts, with an intermission of ten minutes. This reading will last an hour and a half, and as Mr. Collins is reported to be a reader of extraordinary dramatic power and fervor, the success of the entertainment is said to be certain. The management of the readings will be similar to that under which the late Mr. Dickens' tour was conducted while in this country, the reader not being "sold out" to lecturing committees or lyceums. The American Literary Bureau will manage the entertainments, as they did in the case of Mr. Froude and others. It is said that Mr. Collins feels aggrieved on account of his treatment by certain American publishers, the Harpers being the only authorized (who allow him a royalty) of his works in this country. The novelist wrote a dramatized version of the "New Magdalen" for Miss Carlotta Leclercq, two weeks in advance of his completion of the story, to anticipate the plot, yet when the play reached America and was delivered to Miss Leclercq, at Boston, some six or eight dramatic versions of the "New Magdalen" had been produced by the wandering scribes of Columbia. A New York manager offered, it is stated, to take the whole house for the six nights during which Mr. Collins is to give readings in that city at $1.50 for all the seats.

In personal appearance Mr. Collins very much resembles the late Edwin M. Stanton, so much so that the likeness is absolutely striking.—He has the same large frame, spectacles, square shoulders, big firm head and vigorous look and manner of walking. Wilkie Collins was born in 1824, and is, consequently, in his forty-ninth year. His father was a Royal Academician, and many of his books betray the hereditary artistic tendencies of the writer.—As a constructor of literary plot he has no living equal in the English language, and in England, the United States, Australia and the Canadas. His myriad readers will only need mention of his more prominent novels to bring to their mind passages that are not easily eradicated. Among the most celebrated novels written by Mr. Collins are "Antonina" (which was a dead failure at first), "The Dead Secret," "No Name," "The Woman in White," "The Moonstone," "Basil," "Man and Wife," "Poor Miss Finch," "After Dark," and last of all the "New Magdalen," which is now being performed in New York at one theatre, and which will have a series of representations under the name of the "Geneva Cross."—Albany Express.

How Eight Boston Wives had Dinner.

"Such a fame as Taft's makes dinner parties as innumerable as they are inviting, and it would be unaccountable on the doctrine of chance alone, if there did now and then befall a funny incipient to give piquancy as well as substantial delights to the Point Shirley entertainments. Taft tells one that has just occurred at his cosy quarters, but a sly wink given after the whispering was over enjoined the preservation of the strictest incognito of all the parties concerned. It happened on the brightest and most deliciously cool day of the week, when the atmosphere and the skies themselves seemed attuned to the event which was celebrated. Eight married gentlemen of eminently epicurean tastes came together and set their minds upon having a dinner. There were four Englishmen and four Americans, all of whom had tested the skill of cooks the world over. They wished to have everything complete, and going they gave him carte blanche for serving them up such a feast as they wanted. Preparations began forthwith, and all the resources and appliances of Taft's cuisine were brought into requisition.

But meanwhile the wives of the eight gentlemen got wind of the affair. They learned to their just indignation that their husbands were preparing for a grand feast for their sole edification, and that eight plates only were to be laid at their table. Without waiting for an explanation they despatched a messenger to Taft's and duplicated their husbands' order, to be served in a separate dining-room. The bills of fare were to be identicht, with the exception of cigars, and the strictest silence was enjoined. Not even a hint or a whisper was to pass between the husbands and the landlord. The hour appointed for the two dinners came, and the husbands sat down to their dinner, and the wives to theirs. The tables bore the results of Taft's unrivalled taste and skill, and nothing was omitted to make it complete in every detail. Fish, birds, and all yielded their delicious mouthfuls, while the shining plate and excellent service was tickling to every sense.

Not a word passed between the two spic-and-span dining rooms. All unsuspecting the husbands drank a bumper to their wives at home, while the wives sipped the health of their husbands, who never dreamed of their presence under the same hospitable roof.—Dinner over the wives ordered their bill added to that of their unsuspecting husbands, and so the ruse was discovered. There is a pretty moral to all this, Taft thinks, and perhaps one hasn't far to search for it, either."

A Warning to Bad Writers.

The Literary World says that the publication of the heretofore unpublished writings of Nathaniel Hawthorne, announced some time ago, has been delayed for a singular reason. It is intended to include in the projected volume not only the two chapters of the unfinished "Dolliver Romance," which have been printed in the Atlantic, but a third chapter also which the author left in manuscript.—But up to the present time no one has succeeded in deciphering this latter, and it still remains a puzzle. Mrs. Hawthorne was most skillful in deciphering her husband's manuscript. To her patient labor the world owes her conservation of "Septimus Felton."—Since her death no one has been found equal to the task. Miss Una Hawthorne has undertaken the task, but with only partial success. It is the opinion of the most intelligent critics that Mr. Hawthorne intended to suppress "Septimus Felton," and develop its main idea—the secret of living forever—in "The Dolliver Romance."

—There is one place at least in this broad land where woman can get justice, and that is in the Cleveland police court. Last Friday one R. J. Wenham caused the arrest of Mrs. O. D. Titus on a charge of assault and battery. It appeared from the testimony that Wenham called at Mrs. Titus's house to collect a bill, and in the interview with that lady, which was not entirely harmonious, he made a remark derogatory to her character, whereupon she slapped his face. After hearing this story Justice Abbey, turning to the accuser, said: "If you should call at my house and make such a remark to my wife you would probably get something worse than you got from this woman." The gallant Justice then bade Mrs. Titus to depart in peace, and Mr. Wenham had to pay about five dollars in the way of costs.

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 23, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

Wilkie Collins.

SOMETHING ABOUT HIM—HE FIRST APPEARS IN ALBANY.

Wilkie Collins, the famous novelist, is to honor Albany with his first public appearance in America, which takes place on the evening of October 7th, and will consist of a dramatic novellette entitled "The Dream Woman, a Mystery," in two parts, with an intermission of ten minutes. This reading will last an hour and a half, and as Mr. Collins is reported to be a reader of extraordinary dramatic power and fervor, the success of the entertainment is said to be certain. The management of the readings will be similar to that under which the late Mr. Dickens' tour was conducted while in this country, the reader not being "sold out" to lecturing committees or lyceums. The American Literary Bureau will manage the entertainments, as they did in the case of Mr. Froude and others. It is said that Mr. Collins feels aggrieved on account of his treatment by certain American publishers, the Harpers being the only authorized (who allow him a royalty) of his works in this country. The novelist wrote a dramatized version of the "New Magdalen" for Miss Carlotta Leclercq, two weeks in advance of his completion of the story, to anticipate the plot, yet when the play reached America and was delivered to Miss Leclercq, at Boston, some six or eight dramatic versions of the "New Magdalen" had been produced by the wandering scribes of Columbia. A New York manager offered, it is stated, to take the whole house for the six nights during which Mr. Collins is to give readings in that city at $1.50 for all the seats.

In personal appearance Mr. Collins very much resembles the late Edwin M. Stanton, so much so that the likeness is absolutely striking.—He has the same large frame, spectacles, square shoulders, big firm head and vigorous look and manner of walking. Wilkie Collins was born in 1824, and is, consequently, in his forty-ninth year. His father was a Royal Academician, and many of his books betray the hereditary artistic tendencies of the writer.—As a constructor of literary plot he has no living equal in the English language, and in England, the United States, Australia and the Canadas. His myriad readers will only need mention of his more prominent novels to bring to their mind passages that are not easily eradicated. Among the most celebrated novels written by Mr. Collins are "Antonina" (which was a dead failure at first), "The Dead Secret," "No Name," "The Woman in White," "The Moonstone," "Basil," "Man and Wife," "Poor Miss Finch," "After Dark," and last of all the "New Magdalen," which is now being performed in New York at one theatre, and which will have a series of representations under the name of the "Geneva Cross."—Albany Express.

How Eight Boston Wives had Dinner.

"Such a fame as Taft's makes dinner parties as innumerable as they are inviting, and it would be unaccountable on the doctrine of chance alone, if there did now and then befall a funny incipient to give piquancy as well as substantial delights to the Point Shirley entertainments. Taft tells one that has just occurred at his cosy quarters, but a sly wink given after the whispering was over enjoined the preservation of the strictest incognito of all the parties concerned. It happened on the brightest and most deliciously cool day of the week, when the atmosphere and the skies themselves seemed attuned to the event which was celebrated. Eight married gentlemen of eminently epicurean tastes came together and set their minds upon having a dinner. There were four Englishmen and four Americans, all of whom had tested the skill of cooks the world over. They wished to have everything complete, and going they gave him carte blanche for serving them up such a feast as they wanted. Preparations began forthwith, and all the resources and appliances of Taft's cuisine were brought into requisition.

But meanwhile the wives of the eight gentlemen got wind of the affair. They learned to their just indignation that their husbands were preparing for a grand feast for their sole edification, and that eight plates only were to be laid at their table. Without waiting for an explanation they despatched a messenger to Taft's and duplicated their husbands' order, to be served in a separate dining-room. The bills of fare were to be identicht, with the exception of cigars, and the strictest silence was enjoined. Not even a hint or a whisper was to pass between the husbands and the landlord. The hour appointed for the two dinners came, and the husbands sat down to their dinner, and the wives to theirs. The tables bore the results of Taft's unrivalled taste and skill, and nothing was omitted to make it complete in every detail. Fish, birds, and all yielded their delicious mouthfuls, while the shining plate and excellent service was tickling to every sense.

Not a word passed between the two spic-and-span dining rooms. All unsuspecting the husbands drank a bumper to their wives at home, while the wives sipped the health of their husbands, who never dreamed of their presence under the same hospitable roof.—Dinner over the wives ordered their bill added to that of their unsuspecting husbands, and so the ruse was discovered. There is a pretty moral to all this, Taft thinks, and perhaps one hasn't far to search for it, either."

A Warning to Bad Writers.

The Literary World says that the publication of the heretofore unpublished writings of Nathaniel Hawthorne, announced some time ago, has been delayed for a singular reason. It is intended to include in the projected volume not only the two chapters of the unfinished "Dolliver Romance," which have been printed in the Atlantic, but a third chapter also which the author left in manuscript.—But up to the present time no one has succeeded in deciphering this latter, and it still remains a puzzle. Mrs. Hawthorne was most skillful in deciphering her husband's manuscript. To her patient labor the world owes her conservation of "Septimus Felton."—Since her death no one has been found equal to the task. Miss Una Hawthorne has undertaken the task, but with only partial success. It is the opinion of the most intelligent critics that Mr. Hawthorne intended to suppress "Septimus Felton," and develop its main idea—the secret of living forever—in "The Dolliver Romance."

—There is one place at least in this broad land where woman can get justice, and that is in the Cleveland police court. Last Friday one R. J. Wenham caused the arrest of Mrs. O. D. Titus on a charge of assault and battery. It appeared from the testimony that Wenham called at Mrs. Titus's house to collect a bill, and in the interview with that lady, which was not entirely harmonious, he made a remark derogatory to her character, whereupon she slapped his face. After hearing this story Justice Abbey, turning to the accuser, said: "If you should call at my house and make such a remark to my wife you would probably get something worse than you got from this woman." The gallant Justice then bade Mrs. Titus to depart in peace, and Mr. Wenham had to pay about five dollars in the way of costs.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'New American' and 'Annual Cyclopædia.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopædia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopædia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopædia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopædia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

The break-up in the Carlist faction in Spain is favorable, so far as it goes, to the hope of the final establishment of a republic in that distracted country. It is unsafe, nevertheless, to predicate much upon any event in a nation so subject to eccentric changes among its elements.

Perhaps it is never wise to furnish our enemies with an epithet that can be indiscriminately used against us. The chief editor of the Tribune has unfortunately done this in connection with his Amherst oration. Mr. Reid will never hear the last of the "Scholar in Politics," and may afford the world a fresh illustration of the fact that no man ever achieved the highest success anywhere when ridden by a nickname.

Hon. George M. Beebe of Sullivan was made temporary chairman of the Democratic Convention, and got off that little speech of his, the frequent and successful repetition of which has made him locally famous. With tremulous tones and his fine expressive eyes filled with tears he appealed to the Liberals to come over into Macedonia and help the sinking fortunes of his party. Mr. Beebe cried in vain. His fellow Democrats were too proud to say Amen, and the Liberals,—if any were present—were busy with other thoughts. So no one responded, yet the pathos of his words will live in the memory of those who heard them long after the Member from Sullivan has realized his ambition and become a Senator.

"The People."

There is a kind of dirt-eating in this country which is so abject that we think we can profitably devote a few lines to it. We mean an unmanly, servile cringing to a real or supposed popular opinion. The Oriental "crooks the pregnant hinges of the knee" to that decorated High Mightiness, the petty autocrat of his district, and we laugh at his obsequious salaam. But go to any of our home political meetings. Listen to the average speaker there. Hear him flatter "the people." Hear him talk and blow about the "nation of sovereigns." Give ear to the stifling gas in which he enwraps the "sagacity and patriotism of the masses." "Vox populi vox Dei" shouts the loud-lunged orator of the hustings. Yes, and so shouted the crowd that crucified Christ. There are as many "peoples" as there are "publics," and, to wrest an old couplet to a new use,

"Each public has its own disease
Its peril every hour."

The question is not what the people can do but what they ought to do. Get out with your flunkeyish fear of the majority's brute force. That has been as often wrong as right. Talk about the minions of monarchies! The dirt-eating toadies to the biggest count of votes are unworthy to black the boots of Queen Vic's John Brown. Bah!

Two Men.

One was a certain Dr. Guyon—we think that was his name—and another of whose name we are confident, Dr. Obermeier. Guyon practiced medicine in Marseilles during the prevalence of the plague in that city. The pestilence raged more and more. The dying and the dead were everywhere. Natural ties no longer seemed powerful enough to ensure that attention from one member of a family to another which, in time of trouble and sickness, affection almost invariably renders. The disease refused to yield to treatment until at last there was none to treat it. Bells ceased ringing for passing souls or for the dead, because the ringers themselves were gone. Desolation, like a foul bird of night, flapped his wings with a sullen triumph over the swift-coming extinction of all life. The grave was gorged with greater prey than it cared to take and the putrid corpses of beauty and manhood were tumbled into huge pits together without any form of burial. Some one must ascertain the nature of the disease in order that science might combat it. The needed knowledge could only be gained by the dissection of one of the bodies of its victims. At a conference of his brother physicians, Dr. Guyon stated his intention to make such dissection. Having prepared his will, bid good by to his still living friends, he shut himself up with the subject in a room, made the required observations, recorded the results on paper, which he threw in a vase of vinegar, contracted the disease and died. His discoveries saved his native city from further ravages, but he perished in sacrifice to his own success.

Dr. Obermeier was a citizen of Berlin. He had acquired considerable reputation as an investigator of disease. Of late he had been making special researches into the nature of cholera. Having too great confidence in his power to resist the epidemic he kept in his bedroom pathological specimens taken from persons who had died of cholera. It is reported in some of the Berlin medical journals that he injected blood from cholera patients into his own veins to try the effect. At all events he was seized with the scourge and died.—Before his death and during his short illness he made microscopic examinations of his own blood, so devoted was he to this inquiry. We simply have now to ask whether our readers see the sublime element in these men? Why, military pluck is nothing to this form of courage. This is the most magnificent presentation of manhood known to history. Yet the principle following which the doctors died is in the common talk of every pulpit and rostrum in all civilized nations. Our surprise is none the less when we actually see it exemplified.

Channing's Thoreau.

We have often wondered whether Nature did the human race a kindness in giving birth to Ralph Waldo Emerson. When daring adventurers shall discover the Northwest passage and when some marvellous genius shall square the circle our wonder may be dissolved in comprehension, not sooner. We could have endured the intense egotism of the Concord philosopher and possibly borne up under the aggravating obscurity of his style, had he only lacked the power of provoking imitation. But that is the precise quality which he possesses in luxuriant abundance. No recent writer has had a larger and more fatal following. Resonant sophomores in their college orations and simpering misses in their boarding-school essays have shown distinct traces of Emerson for years. These young aspirants, in humble homage to the shrine where their budding mentality profoundly worshipped, fell into the habit of mouthing dark and swelling phrases in the fond belief that the depths of thought could only be sounded by a plummet line of verbal nonsense. And we are led now to regret that Mr. William Ellery Channing of Boston was once praised to his very face by Mr. Emerson for an early literary effort. That well-meant but injudicious mark of approbation ruined Mr. Channing for life, as an author.—He has rushed into transcendentalism, and trampled the dictionary under his reckless feet. He pays no more deference to the accepted meaning of common words than Shack Nasty Jim would pay to the sacredness of St. Peter's Church. With this super-eminent disqualification, Mr. Channing has written a Life of Thoreau. Worse still, Roberts Bros., of Boston, have published it. Our objection to this proceeds from our interest in the future of the language combined with our detestation of a misleading biography of a somewhat romantic character. Mr. Channing's book is a preposterous eulogy of an eccentric but thoroughly selfish man—one who demanded the recognition of his moral deficiencies and social self-exile as something commendable. A man who declined being judged by the ordinary standards, and who laughed and chuckled with a cynic's satisfaction at the world to which he, nevertheless, offered for sale his books—six volumes of the dreariest trash that a classic education could educe from the contemplation of Maine willows and woodchucks. We say for this literary monstrosity Mr. Emerson is indirectly responsible. Very few people will read the book, and they will either get angry at it or blindly admire and be damaged by it. Anna Dickinson once, in a lecture of hers, propounded this startling conundrum, "Why was I born?" and nobody was able to tell her. If the same question were asked as to the author of the supernal philosophy, we should answer, "We don't know."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—It is thought the reason Pittsburgh didn't suspend was because the atmosphere is so thick she couldn't see it.

—The World endorses ex-Governor Seymour's speech at Utica. What has become of its Bourbonism?

—"Equinoxial" is the Bostonian orthography for Tuesday's storm. And there is a prohibitory law in Boston, at that. Too bad!

—Senator Morton is in favor of an extra session of Congress. There seems to be a responsibility upon somebody to remedy the present financial condition of affairs.

—It would seem from the fact that the Philadelphia Italians are just going to erect a monument to Columbus, that, like the Doctor in "Innocents Abroad," they haven't been convinced that he was dead until now.

—The decision of the Court of Appeals against the complainants in the suits against the Staten Island Railroad Company, growing out of the Westfield disaster, will be greatly regretted, more so on account of the decision being rendered on account of lack of jurisdiction, which seems to have been the fault of a blunder in the statute. A new law is now in force, but it is feared it will not avail in the case.

—Whatever may be said of the Graphic as a newspaper, it certainly has proved remarkably successful in its new style of picture-producing, by which it is able to transfer the artist's drawing and also to copy other engravings with most perfect exactness. Wednesday's Graphic contains a reproduction of two of Tom Nast's cartoons in miniature, yet so perfect in every detail, even the figures and small type of the page of Harper's from which it is copied, that there can be no doubt that the process is a wonderful invention.

—An English apothecary has been censured by a coroner's jury because he refused to compound a prescription wherein the dose of one of the ingredients was in his opinion too large, the consequence of which refusal was the death of the patient for whom the mixture had been prescribed. The precedent is respectfully commended to the attention of the Pennsylvania justice who recently decided that the druggist who filled a physician's prescription for alcohol did so at the risk of indictment. And it opens the very interesting question whether the man would not have been killed by the dose anyway. We think if we had been the man we would have preferred dying as he did.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Bishop Simpson is ill at Clifton Springs.

—Senator Sumner has concluded not to lecture during the coming winter.

—John C. Heenan is said to be dying at Helena, Montana.

—The Bedoya insurrection in Peru has been quelled and Bedoya stoned to death.

—Sir Edwin Landseer, the noted painter, is dead.

—A New York Alderman took the Evangelical Alliance on a pleasure trip down the bay.

—Donaldson is going up in his balloon on Saturday—if the weather permits, of course.

—The suspense regarding the Modocs will be ended to-day by the suspension of the Modocs themselves.

—Harper's Weekly don't like the action of the Republican State Convention in not renominating Gen. Barlow for Attorney General.

—Nineteen privates and four officers of the mutinous Eleventh Regiment will be court-martialed and the regiment will not be disbanded, as reported.

—A St. Louis dispatch says that at meetings of Granges held in Jefferson City and Carthage, Mo., Wednesday, addresses were made by prominent speakers. Five thousand persons were present at the latter place. The procession was two miles long, and forty granges were represented.

A railroad project which is occupying the attention of the English press has recently been broached by M. Lesseps, the constructors of the Suez Canal, to the Russian Government. This enterprise includes a railroad from the Russian town of Orenburg to Peshawur, in India, a distance of 2,500 miles. When this portion of the line shall have been finished a railroad will extend, without break of gauge, from Calais to Calcutta, through Warsaw and Moscow. As it would enable Russia or France to send troops direct to India, in case of a war with England, the press of the latter country are naturally very much disturbed at the prospect of the successful completion of the work. M. Lesseps has already asked of the Russian government the sum of $750,000 to pay for preliminary work in connection with the enterprise.

—Practical joking is not a commendable way of killing time, or the most profitable method of exercising an inventive genius. But that office boy will come to something good or bad, who, during the absence of his employer, hung a hideous effigy from the gas-burner in front of his office door, its face hidden with a black cap, its throat gashed and crimsoned, its belt an armory of dirks, bludgeons and revolvers, its hands flourishing a sword and jug of poison, and then, his ghastly work accomplished, advertised for servant girls to apply at the dimly lighted room, upon the door of which they read "Walk in, back in five minutes."

—The piazza around the Fall style of shoe is a little broader than those built in the Summer. A pair of second hand, "high toned" shoes will be just the thing to put in a barrel of old clothes for a frontier missionary to use as snow shoes, as he goes across lots about his parish during the coming Winter.

Captain Werner's Trial.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—A court-martial has been ordered for the trial of Captain Werner of the German war steamer Frederic Karl for the seizure of the Spanish steamer Vigilante while flying the red flag of the Commune.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Bank of England Bullion.

LONDON, Oct. 2—3:30 P. M.—The bullion in the Bank of England has decreased £1,904,000 during the past week.

SPECIE SHIPMENTS TO AMERICA.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The specie shipment to New York by yesterday's steamer was £244,000.

THE TIMES ON THE PANIC.

LONDON, Oct. 3—5 A. M.—The Times this morning in an editorial retrospective of the late American financial panic says the recklessness and dishonesty lately characterizing the management of some of the greatest undertakings in America have induced chronic nervousness, momentarily liable to become acute. Even Americans, says the Times, are now all smart men or daring speculators. The Times thinks the danger has disappeared for the present, but political and financial causes are liable to reproduce it at any time. A country with an immense field for enterprise and comparatively limited capital is always liable to panics. The improvements made in western communications are most useful and profitable, but may cause further trouble. The entire blame for the disaster rests upon the unsound monetary system of the country.

A RAILROAD SUIT.

Verdict Against a Railroad.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—The jury in the case of Cobb, Blaisdell & Co. versus the Illinois Central Railroad Co. to-day awarded to plaintiffs $43,560. The suit was to recover damages for delay in shipments of grain during the war.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

Headquarters During the Campaign.

UTICA, Oct 2.—The Democratic State Committee met this afternoon and organized by electing Samuel J. Tilden Chairman and Joseph Warren of Buffalo Secretary.

The following Executive Committee was appointed: John Fox of New York, William A. Fowler of Kings, Harris G. Rodgers of Broome, W. W. Gordon of Delaware, Jarvis Lord of Monroe and Henry A. Richmond of Genessee. The committee unanimously passed a resolution fixing the headquarters of the committee at Albany, and appointed a meeting at Albany for Thursday, 9th inst., at 12 o'clock noon, at the Delevan House, to which meeting candidates and others interested in the success of the ticket are understood to be invited.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

St. Louis Merchants and Certified Checks.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—A large number of merchants in this city have signed a circular to the effect that they will receive certified checks on St. Louis banks in payment of any indebtedness or for any goods or supplies of any kind that may be wanted. It is believed that this will restore confidence in all departments of trade and give an impetus to business.

NOTHING NEW IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Nothing particularly new in financial matters. Things are working quietly among the bankers. General markets are recovering from the depression and the demand for some definite action relative to early currency resumption is increasing.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Petition to Throw Jay Gould & Co. into Bankruptcy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—To-day a petition was filed in the Supreme Court for the District of Columbia in the name of Clifford Arrick against Jay Cooke and other members of the firm to force them into involuntary bankruptcy. The petition sets forth that the firm is indebted to him in the amount of $105,000 on certificates of deposit bearing five per cent interest, and charges the act of bankruptcy as follows:

On the 20th of September, being possessed of large amounts of real estate in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the District of Columbia, they did make an assignment of all their real estate lying elsewhere than in Pennsylvania to S. Morehead, a member of the firm. Second, that on the 18th of September they stopped payment of their commercial paper. Third, that on the 18th of September, being possessed of bills, gold, silver and copper and being aware that a legal process had been issued or was about to be issued, they concealed and removed said money. Fourth, that on the 18th of September they suspended payment. Fifth, that on the 18th of September, being then bankrupts, they did make payments of money, to certain parties to the petitioner unknown, on the plea that they were special depositors, in order to give them preference over other depositors and defeat and delay the act of bankruptcy.

The petition was presented to Judge Humphrey, who granted the usual warrant requiring the parties to appear on Friday, October 10th, and answer why they should not be adjudged bankrupts.

YELLOW FEVER.

Twelve Deaths at Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 2.—Twelve deaths from yellow fever to-day. The Mayor of Marshall, Texas, denies the report that yellow fever prevails there.

AN APPEAL FROM MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 2.—Forty-one interments to-day, twenty-seven from yellow fever.

At a meeting of the Citizens' Executive Committee to-day the following appeal was made to the country for aid:

TO THE CHARITABLE THROUGH MAYORS OF CITIES IN THE UNITED STATES:—The yellow fever is increasing daily. Sickness and death prevail upon every side and business is suspended. For the sake of suffering humanity send moneyed relief at once to our city. The treasuries of all our charitable societies have exhausted their resources and private charity itself is almost exhausted. Memphis has always promptly responded to the calls of the distressed in other cities. She asks their assistance in return to relieve her dire distresses. The occasion is so deplorable that we make this appeal without hesitation, but lament the necessity. Money is what we need to pay nurses, to buy food, to bury the dead and to shelter the orphans and helpless.

Direct by telegraph to
JOHN JOHNSTON,
Mayor of the City of Memphis,
A. D. LANGSLAFF, President Howard Association,
J. J. BUSLEY, Chairman Citizens' Executive Committee,
A. E. FRANKLAND, Secretary Citizens' Executive Committee,
G. G. LONSDALE, JAS. ELDER and J. J. MURPHY.

There is much bitter feeling toward absent rich citizens who contributed nothing to aid in expelling the disease but have left the poorer classes to bear the burden.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the Middle Atlantic States easterly winds, cloudy and threatening weather. From New England to the lower lakes northwesterly winds, cooler and clear weather.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Ticket Nominated.

UTICA, Oct. 2.—The Democratic State Convention met at 10 o'clock this forenoon. Mr. Sullivan of New York, from the Committee on Resolutions, submitted the following:

Resolved, That the Democrats of the state of New York invite the co-operation of all citizens who agree with them in the following fundamental principles enunciated by Thomas Jefferson: Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political. The support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent adminstrators of our domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against anti-Republican tendencies. The preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad. A zealous care of the right of election by the people and absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority. The supremacy of the civil over the military authority. Economy in public expenses that labor may be lightly burdened. The honest payment of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith. The diffusion of information and the arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason; freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. That special legislation favoring private interests are inimical to the public welfare, and that the granting of subsidies by the general and state governments and the bonding of cities, towns and villages inland, and of railroad and other corporations, is wrong in principle, corrupting in tendency, and ought to cease. We condemn and denounce the salary grab and all Congressmen, Democrats or Republicans, who voted for it, or who have not renounced all share in the plunder seized for services already done and paid for. We condemn and denounce the President's signature to the bill which clinched this iniquity, and which gave $5,000 to each congressman, while procuring $100,000 for himself after Congress had just refused to increase his salary, and we demand its repeal. We condemn and denounce as utterly unworthy the people's confidence the Republican party for having permitted the Credit Mobilier frauds to pass unpunished, in which its two vice Presidents, more than one of its United States Senators and its five chairmen of five chief committees of the house of representatives were guilty participants, and the two foremost defenders of which have been rewarded by that party's head, one with a foreign mission, and one with the use of federal patronage to elect him governor of a neighboring state. We condemn as utterly unworthy the people's confidence the Republican party which in this state assisted a corrupt ring to grasp without an election all the powers of the city government of New York, and when the Democratic party had excluded them from its ranks and united to expel them from power, itself seized the occasion to create a new and more corrupt custom house ring on the ruins of municipal reform, and to inflict upon the tax-burdened citizens of our commercial metropolis a costly, complex and most cumbersome charter of government. We condemn and denounce the President in setting up by the bayonet a government in Louisiana not chosen by her people, having no title to authority, as a flagrant violation of the federal constitution and the rights of a sister state.

The following are the nominations:

Diedrich Willers of Seneca, Secretary of State; Asher P. Nichols of Erie, Comptroller; Judge Daniel Pratt of Onondaga, Attorney-General; Thomas Raines of Jefferson, Treasurer; Sylvanus H. Sweet of Albany, State Engineer and Surveyor; James Jackson, Jr., of Niagara, Canal Commissioner; George M. Milspaugh of Orange, State Prison Inspector.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

Inspection of Castle Garden and Ward's Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Gov. Dix and staff today paid a visit of inspection to Castle Garden and Ward's Island, institutions under charge of the Emigration Commission.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day a committee was appointed to organize a Tribunal of Commerce. A proposition to unite with the National Board of Trade was referred to the committee.

In the bankruptcy case of the Midland Railroad to-day the counsel for the company denied it was bankrupt and were allowed a jury trial.

In the case of Simon Kaufman against Jay Cooke & Co., in which plaintiff applies for the removal of Pitt Cooke as receiver in charge of certain property on the ground of his being an interested party and insolvent, the counsel of Cooke denied that the individual members of the firm were insolvent and the motion was denied.

Chancellor Runyon of New Jersey to-day issued an order restraining the receiver already appointed from taking charge of the State bank of New Brunswick, the subscriptions of stockholders covering all liabilities and restoring the capital stock.

RECEPTION OF THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

The reception of delegates of the Evangelical Alliance at the Young Men's Christian Association to-night was attended by an immense crowd. Flags of all nations were displayed and the names of Calvin, Knox, Wycliffe, Bunyan and Edwards were in gilt letters over the platform. Rev. Dr. Adams delivered the opening address, welcoming those present from this country and from abroad in the name of the Christian people of this country as fellow-citizens and saints of the household of God.

THE GREAT BILLIARD MATCH.

The match game of billiards between Garnier and Daly for the champion cue, 1,500 points, was played at Tammany Hall to-night. Garnier won in the 47th inning, Daly's score standing 1,224. Garnier refused to take the cue, when Daly was challenged by Cyrille Dion.

THE BROOKLYN UNION RETRACTS.

The Brooklyn Union to-day retracts the statements regarding the circulation and ownership of the New York Tribune for which the latter brought suit for libel against the Union some months ago.

YACHT RACING.

Fall Regatta of the New York Club.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The autumn regatta of the New York Yacht Club came off to-day.—The following started: Schooners—Atalanta, Alarm, Eva, Clio and Peerless. Sloops—Vision, Vixen, Ariadne, Vindex and West Wind. The Vixen was first to round the buoy, followed by the Peerless, Vision, Vindex, Clio, Ariadne, West Wind, Eva and Alarm in the order of their names. The run home was so close as to render a victory doubtful up to the last moment. The Eva came in first, winning the schooner cup, the Vision second, the Eva so close that it seemed as if time allowance might not place her ahead.

The following is the corrected time of the leading yachts:

Eva,	7 hours,	17 minutes,	21 seconds.
Clio,	7 "	26 "	56 "
Vision,	7 "	46 "	01 "
Vixen,	7 "	47 "	27 "

LARGE FIRE.

Loss Twenty Thousand Dollars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Three stills in the oil works of William King at Point Breeze were destroyed by fire to-day. Loss $20,000; partially insured.

DEATH FROM AN ACCIDENT.

Sir Samuel McDonald, Knight Templar, of D. E. Molay Commandery, of Pottsville, Pa., died to-day from injuries caused by falling down a dumb waiter passage way in the Masonic Temple yesterday while inspecting the building.

A TOWN OVERFLOWED.

Six Persons Drowned.

GALVESTON, Oct. 2.—The town of Lampases was inundated on Saturday last by a sudden rise in the creek that flows through the place. The water was so swift that some two houses were carried away, including the post-office and contents and the store of Wood & Chalson and contents. Six persons are known to have been drowned.

THE RASCALLY CHEYENNES.

Excitement over their Depredations.

DENVER, Oct. 2.—There is intense excitement among the settlers and stock men in Ark Valley, south of Pueblo, on account of the depredations committed by roving bands of Cheyenne Indians, who have already wantonly killed several hundred head of cattle. The Indians say that the white men let them rot on the plains and now they are going to kill all the cattle of the whites. Thus far no murders are reported, but the Indians have visited a number of houses and carried away blankets and anything else they desired and destroyed other property. Many families have sought safety in Pueblo. Schools have been dismissed and scouts are going over the country collecting men and arms and ammunition. The Indians will be severely punished if they can be overtaken.

COMMERCIAL REPORTS.

STOCK and MONEY MARKET.

NEW YORK, October 2.

Better feeling in financial circles to-day. Private advices report an improvement in some of the leading cities of the Union. Some bankers received telegrams from Cincinnati and other western cities to stop sending currency and in a few instances advices were received of currency flowing this way. The outflow of currency to neighboring cities was stopped in many cases to-day from the south reporting that cotton is moving more freely on certified checks and moderate amounts of currency recently received from the north. This was particularly true of Mobile, Savannah and New Orleans.—As another indication of the improved condition of affairs many leading railroads had large obligations due yesterday in the shape of interest and dividends, all of which were met promptly. The premium on greenbacks for certified checks early in the day was 2½@3, still later 1@2, with very large offerings. Money ranged ½ premium at 7 per cent. Stocks opened unsettled, became steady at 1 o'clock and closed steady and strong with an advance of ½@3½ from the lowest point of the day. The heaviest dealings were in Western Union, Lake Shore, New York Central, Pacific Mail, Northwest common and Union Pacific. Heavy business in small lots again to-day and country orders are larger to-day than yesterday. Heavy purchases of New York Central for London account. Gold carrying rates 4@7 gold to 1-32 premium. Clearings $34,500,000. Governments in active demand all day. Treasury disbursements $86,000. The Loan Committee of the Clearing House Association are now so well satisfied with the situation that they will not issue more certificates, but will begin to-morrow a gradual reduction of the amount outstanding.

Destruction of a Chimney.

The Boston Traveler has the following account of the throwing down of the great Echo chimney, so long a curiosity at Roxbury, which occurred on the 16th: A staging had been erected within the chimney to the height of one hundred and ten feet; and arches had been cut in the side, the five piers of which were mined by perpendicular and transverse drill holes of about eighteen inches in depth, numbering twenty-one, which were charged with powder, and exploded about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but so porous was the brick work that even this great number of holes was insufficient to throw out the five piers, and did but little execution. After the smoke had cleared away Mr. Robert Mason, who had charge of the mechanical work, ascended and found the staging uninjured, and soon the rubbish was cleared away, and preparations were made for another charge, which proved quite successful. This time five kegs of powder were used, and when prepared Mr. Mason came down fifty feet, which was the length of the fuse, and lit the match, which took effect in about fifteen minutes, when one hundred and twenty-five feet of the chimney seemed lifted in the air and then crushed down to the ground almost in a perpendicular line without accident or damage of any kind. One hundred feet of the chimney still stands, but can be removed when needed without danger or trouble.

The chimney was finished about twenty-seven years ago for the Roxbury Chemical Works. Its whole hight from the level of the street was 242 feet; size of the base inside, 13 feet; size at the point of mining (110 feet from the ground,) 11 feet 2 inches; thickness of the wall at 110 feet elevation, 12 inches; size of the six arches cut out at the above elevation, 18 inches square; size of the five piers remaining between the arches, each 15 inches. The drill holes were one and a half inches in diameter, and eighteen inches deep, and were sunk in the center of the wall. The second mining was without drilling, the powder being strongly confined in position near the sides with timbers and braces, and the matches so attached that the explosion would throw a part of the powder upward to burn at an elevation as near the top of the chimney as possible. This part proved very effectual, for the top of the chimney was split apparently simultaneous with that where the powder was confined. The wall below the point of confinement was thrown out for some ten or fifteen feet. The bricks were generally separated in falling, but nearly all landed within fifty feet of the base of the chimney, the farthest off being ninety feet. The explosion lit up the whole premises, and the falling mass was clearly seen during its passage down. The effect of the explosion resembled much that of a slight earthquake, and houses in the vicinity were considerably shaken. The fall of the chimney resembled in its effects and in sound the effects of the blowing up of buildings during the great fire, and called vividly to mind that time to many.

The Westfield Suits.

The decision of the Court of Appeals in the Westfield cases: "Judgments reversed and complaints dismissed, with costs—Kelly against The Staten Island Railroad Company; Madden against The Same; Landers against The Same;" has fallen with painful surprise on all who remember the Sunday catastrophe, and shared in the unanimous reprobation of the greedy corporation which presumed to dispute the justice of compensation to the surviving sufferers and the bereaved families of those slain by their neglect. The want of jurisdiction has been the technical ground of the reversal. This defect has since the institution of the suits, been remedied by the Legislature, but further suits are probably barred by the Statute of Limitation, which requires complaint to be entered within two years of the cause. It is more than two years since the Westfield blew up. The defense did not rely on the point which has so unexpectedly turned in their favor. They pleaded first that there could be no legal contract on Sunday with their passengers, and then that it was accident, and not carelessness, which occasioned the explosion. They were worsted on both points. The jurisdiction objection was overruled by Judge Neilson, in Brooklyn. The juries disagreed in three of the six original cases, and in those appealed rendered verdicts for the full amount claimed, $5,000 each. And these judgments were confirmed by the General Term of the Brooklyn City Court.—N. Y. Times.

—It is related that a day or two ago, in Algiers, says the New Orleans Picayune, a certain citizen, currying favor with his "culled brethren," invited an ebony justice of the peace to take something in a fashionable coffee-house. The proprietor, perfectly understanding the social equality law, and not desiring to have a suit against him, poured out the liquor for the couple, and allowing the negro to drink at his bar, marched his white friend by the ear out into the yard, where he was made to imbibe, much to the amusement of all lookers-on, who heartily enjoyed the spectacle of (in the language of the barkeeper) "a white man not good enough to drink with a nigger."

—Says the Rochester Democrat: Alexander Earle, contemplating the unveiling of the bust of John Howard Payne, in Brooklyn, last Saturday, plaintively remarked that he didn't know so much about places, but as to women there was no woman like Homan, though, to be sure, she wasn't a Payne institution.

The New Masonic Temple in Philadelphia.

The following brief description of the great Masonic Temple recently dedicated in Philadelphia will be of interest to our Masonic readers:

The new Masonic Temple, on the corner of Broad and Filbert streets, in Philadelphia, is one of the finest specimens of architectural art in the country, and contains one of the largest assembly rooms in the world. The cost of the structure is $1,300,000, and it has been nearly five years in building. It is built entirely of granite outside, with brick backing, walls and arches, which are very thick and substantial. The front is of finely dressed Quincy granite; the Filbert street front is of Richmond granite, dressed, and runs to Juniper street. The Juniper and Cuthbert street fronts are of granite, the latter rough-dressed, but quite imposing in appearance. The building is three lofty stories and a basement in height. The main entrance on Broad street is modeled after the doorway of St. Mark's church in Venice, with the exception of the figures, which are symbols of the order. The Norman and Gothic styles of architecture prevail on the first and second floors, and Corinthian throughout the rest of the edifice. The meeting rooms of the Grand Lodge is the representative apartment of the temple, and the largest one in it. From an octagonal vestibule at the western end the visitor enters through massive doors, artistically constructed of walnut, with cedar sunkings and raised panels, made of mottled walnut imported from France. The work is highly polished and these panels present the appearance of marble. The furniture of the hall is of walnut and cedar, covered with blue plush. Everywhere Masonic emblems meet the eye, carved in wood or stone, or shining from stained glass windows and handsomely-cut globes. The next larger room is the Grand Chapter Hall, then follow the Egyptian Hall, the Ionic, the Norman, the Oriental and numerous other halls, for lodge meetings. The library room is situated on the second floor and is intended for use as well as ornament, and will be the repository of a complete Masonic library, if the plans of the Grand Lodge can be successfully carried out. It is the intention to gather together here every publication that can be procured which relates to Free Masonry, and especially the publications of all Masonic bodies in this country. A nucleus has already been formed, there being a considerable library that was at the old hall, while frequent purchases are made and books are presented by persons interested in the project. During 1862 about $365 were expended for Masonic works of rarity. It is the intention to keep the newspapers of Philadelphi and other cities, and also all Masonic periodical publications, on file.

The building was dedicated by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania on Friday last.

They do have such funny lawsuits over in England. One has just closed wherein Miss Warren, an old maid of independent means, sued her young page, Walter Howard, for obtaining large sums of money under false pretenses. She was sixty-four and he fifteen, and she doted on him somewhat, so that when he asked her for money to get cured of a lung difficulty, she gave it, frequently in large sums. He had no lung difficulty, however, and spent the money in unselect female society till he became a sad puppy—he wasn't old enough to be a dog—and his mother took him from Miss Warren, foreseeing that he was going to the bad. Then his venerable patron sued to recover her largess, but at the trial they pestered her fearfully by trying to prove that she had been too free in her ways with young Walter; it was shown that he used to kiss her and run into her room at all times, and go about the house singing verses which intimated that old maids would become the mothers of twins before he would cease to love, etc., all of which, as it was gradually evolved in the testimony, distressed the good woman exceedingly. As the trial progressed, the papers caricatured her, and even the bad little boys sung mean songs about her on the streets, till finally she "threw up the sponge," so to speak. Her health broke down, and she withdrew the suit, declaring that ten times the amount at issue would not tempt her to continue proceedings.

—We took the underground railway from Euston road station, and in fifteen minutes found ourself the other side of London, at the Bayswater station. This underground railway is an admirable affair. The speed, regularity, and safety of the trains make up a marvel in the way of transportation. One descends twenty or thirty steps to a dim-lit station, and finds placards as well as officials on every side directing and giving information. One hears a low roar, and in a few seconds the train glides up. It does not touch your platform, so it is not the one you want. In two seconds this train, laden with passengers, is off, and as you watch it your own glides in. Each train has first, second, and third class cars, and it is striking to see how a crowd sifts itself into place without delay and without confusion.—Sundown Cor.

The break-up in the Carlist faction in Spain is favorable, so far as it goes, to the hope of the final establishment of a republic in that distracted country. It is unsafe, nevertheless, to predicate much upon any event in a nation so subject to eccentric changes among its elements.

Perhaps it is never wise to furnish our enemies with an epithet that can be indiscriminately used against us. The chief editor of the Tribune has unfortunately done this in connection with his Amherst oration. Mr. Reid will never hear the last of the "Scholar in Politics," and may afford the world a fresh illustration of the fact that no man ever achieved the highest success anywhere when ridden by a nickname.

Hon. George M. Beebe of Sullivan was made temporary chairman of the Democratic Convention, and got off that little speech of his, the frequent and successful repetition of which has made him locally famous. With tremulous tones and his fine expressive eyes filled with tears he appealed to the Liberals to come over into Macedonia and help the sinking fortunes of his party. Mr. Beebe cried in vain. His fellow Democrats were too proud to say Amen, and the Liberals,—if any were present—were busy with other thoughts. So no one responded, yet the pathos of his words will live in the memory of those who heard them long after the Member from Sullivan has realized his ambition and become a Senator.

"The People."

There is a kind of dirt-eating in this country which is so abject that we think we can profitably devote a few lines to it. We mean an unmanly, servile cringing to a real or supposed popular opinion. The Oriental "crooks the pregnant hinges of the knee" to that decorated High Mightiness, the petty autocrat of his district, and we laugh at his obsequious salaam. But go to any of our home political meetings. Listen to the average speaker there. Hear him flatter "the people." Hear him talk and blow about the "nation of sovereigns." Give ear to the stifling gas in which he enwraps the "sagacity and patriotism of the masses." "Vox populi vox Dei" shouts the loud-lunged orator of the hustings. Yes, and so shouted the crowd that crucified Christ. There are as many "peoples" as there are "publics," and, to wrest an old couplet to a new use,

"Each public has its own disease
Its peril every hour."

The question is not what the people can do but what they ought to do. Get out with your flunkeyish fear of the majority's brute force. That has been as often wrong as right. Talk about the minions of monarchies! The dirt-eating toadies to the biggest count of votes are unworthy to black the boots of Queen Vic's John Brown. Bah!

Two Men.

One was a certain Dr. Guyon—we think that was his name—and another of whose name we are confident, Dr. Obermeier. Guyon practiced medicine in Marseilles during the prevalence of the plague in that city. The pestilence raged more and more. The dying and the dead were everywhere. Natural ties no longer seemed powerful enough to ensure that attention from one member of a family to another which, in time of trouble and sickness, affection almost invariably renders. The disease refused to yield to treatment until at last there was none to treat it. Bells ceased ringing for passing souls or for the dead, because the ringers themselves were gone. Desolation, like a foul bird of night, flapped his wings with a sullen triumph over the swift-coming extinction of all life. The grave was gorged with greater prey than it cared to take and the putrid corpses of beauty and manhood were tumbled into huge pits together without any form of burial. Some one must ascertain the nature of the disease in order that science might combat it. The needed knowledge could only be gained by the dissection of one of the bodies of its victims. At a conference of his brother physicians, Dr. Guyon stated his intention to make such dissection. Having prepared his will, bid good by to his still living friends, he shut himself up with the subject in a room, made the required observations, recorded the results on paper, which he threw in a vase of vinegar, contracted the disease and died. His discoveries saved his native city from further ravages, but he perished in sacrifice to his own success.

Dr. Obermeier was a citizen of Berlin. He had acquired considerable reputation as an investigator of disease. Of late he had been making special researches into the nature of cholera. Having too great confidence in his power to resist the epidemic he kept in his bedroom pathological specimens taken from persons who had died of cholera. It is reported in some of the Berlin medical journals that he injected blood from cholera patients into his own veins to try the effect. At all events he was seized with the scourge and died.—Before his death and during his short illness he made microscopic examinations of his own blood, so devoted was he to this inquiry. We simply have now to ask whether our readers see the sublime element in these men? Why, military pluck is nothing to this form of courage. This is the most magnificent presentation of manhood known to history. Yet the principle following which the doctors died is in the common talk of every pulpit and rostrum in all civilized nations. Our surprise is none the less when we actually see it exemplified.

Channing's Thoreau.

We have often wondered whether Nature did the human race a kindness in giving birth to Ralph Waldo Emerson. When daring adventurers shall discover the Northwest passage and when some marvellous genius shall square the circle our wonder may be dissolved in comprehension, not sooner. We could have endured the intense egotism of the Concord philosopher and possibly borne up under the aggravating obscurity of his style, had he only lacked the power of provoking imitation. But that is the precise quality which he possesses in luxuriant abundance. No recent writer has had a larger and more fatal following. Resonant sophomores in their college orations and simpering misses in their boarding-school essays have shown distinct traces of Emerson for years. These young aspirants, in humble homage to the shrine where their budding mentality profoundly worshipped, fell into the habit of mouthing dark and swelling phrases in the fond belief that the depths of thought could only be sounded by a plummet line of verbal nonsense. And we are led now to regret that Mr. William Ellery Channing of Boston was once praised to his very face by Mr. Emerson for an early literary effort. That well-meant but injudicious mark of approbation ruined Mr. Channing for life, as an author.—He has rushed into transcendentalism, and trampled the dictionary under his reckless feet. He pays no more deference to the accepted meaning of common words than Shack Nasty Jim would pay to the sacredness of St. Peter's Church. With this super-eminent disqualification, Mr. Channing has written a Life of Thoreau. Worse still, Roberts Bros., of Boston, have published it. Our objection to this proceeds from our interest in the future of the language combined with our detestation of a misleading biography of a somewhat romantic character. Mr. Channing's book is a preposterous eulogy of an eccentric but thoroughly selfish man—one who demanded the recognition of his moral deficiencies and social self-exile as something commendable. A man who declined being judged by the ordinary standards, and who laughed and chuckled with a cynic's satisfaction at the world to which he, nevertheless, offered for sale his books—six volumes of the dreariest trash that a classic education could educe from the contemplation of Maine willows and woodchucks. We say for this literary monstrosity Mr. Emerson is indirectly responsible. Very few people will read the book, and they will either get angry at it or blindly admire and be damaged by it. Anna Dickinson once, in a lecture of hers, propounded this startling conundrum, "Why was I born?" and nobody was able to tell her. If the same question were asked as to the author of the supernal philosophy, we should answer, "We don't know."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—It is thought the reason Pittsburgh didn't suspend was because the atmosphere is so thick she couldn't see it.

—The World endorses ex-Governor Seymour's speech at Utica. What has become of its Bourbonism?

—"Equinoxial" is the Bostonian orthography for Tuesday's storm. And there is a prohibitory law in Boston, at that. Too bad!

—Senator Morton is in favor of an extra session of Congress. There seems to be a responsibility upon somebody to remedy the present financial condition of affairs.

—It would seem from the fact that the Philadelphia Italians are just going to erect a monument to Columbus, that, like the Doctor in "Innocents Abroad," they haven't been convinced that he was dead until now.

—The decision of the Court of Appeals against the complainants in the suits against the Staten Island Railroad Company, growing out of the Westfield disaster, will be greatly regretted, more so on account of the decision being rendered on account of lack of jurisdiction, which seems to have been the fault of a blunder in the statute. A new law is now in force, but it is feared it will not avail in the case.

—Whatever may be said of the Graphic as a newspaper, it certainly has proved remarkably successful in its new style of picture-producing, by which it is able to transfer the artist's drawing and also to copy other engravings with most perfect exactness. Wednesday's Graphic contains a reproduction of two of Tom Nast's cartoons in miniature, yet so perfect in every detail, even the figures and small type of the page of Harper's from which it is copied, that there can be no doubt that the process is a wonderful invention.

—An English apothecary has been censured by a coroner's jury because he refused to compound a prescription wherein the dose of one of the ingredients was in his opinion too large, the consequence of which refusal was the death of the patient for whom the mixture had been prescribed. The precedent is respectfully commended to the attention of the Pennsylvania justice who recently decided that the druggist who filled a physician's prescription for alcohol did so at the risk of indictment. And it opens the very interesting question whether the man would not have been killed by the dose anyway. We think if we had been the man we would have preferred dying as he did.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Bishop Simpson is ill at Clifton Springs.

—Senator Sumner has concluded not to lecture during the coming winter.

—John C. Heenan is said to be dying at Helena, Montana.

—The Bedoya insurrection in Peru has been quelled and Bedoya stoned to death.

—Sir Edwin Landseer, the noted painter, is dead.

—A New York Alderman took the Evangelical Alliance on a pleasure trip down the bay.

—Donaldson is going up in his balloon on Saturday—if the weather permits, of course.

—The suspense regarding the Modocs will be ended to-day by the suspension of the Modocs themselves.

—Harper's Weekly don't like the action of the Republican State Convention in not renominating Gen. Barlow for Attorney General.

—Nineteen privates and four officers of the mutinous Eleventh Regiment will be court-martialed and the regiment will not be disbanded, as reported.

—A St. Louis dispatch says that at meetings of Granges held in Jefferson City and Carthage, Mo., Wednesday, addresses were made by prominent speakers. Five thousand persons were present at the latter place. The procession was two miles long, and forty granges were represented.

A railroad project which is occupying the attention of the English press has recently been broached by M. Lesseps, the constructors of the Suez Canal, to the Russian Government. This enterprise includes a railroad from the Russian town of Orenburg to Peshawur, in India, a distance of 2,500 miles. When this portion of the line shall have been finished a railroad will extend, without break of gauge, from Calais to Calcutta, through Warsaw and Moscow. As it would enable Russia or France to send troops direct to India, in case of a war with England, the press of the latter country are naturally very much disturbed at the prospect of the successful completion of the work. M. Lesseps has already asked of the Russian government the sum of $750,000 to pay for preliminary work in connection with the enterprise.

—Practical joking is not a commendable way of killing time, or the most profitable method of exercising an inventive genius. But that office boy will come to something good or bad, who, during the absence of his employer, hung a hideous effigy from the gas-burner in front of his office door, its face hidden with a black cap, its throat gashed and crimsoned, its belt an armory of dirks, bludgeons and revolvers, its hands flourishing a sword and jug of poison, and then, his ghastly work accomplished, advertised for servant girls to apply at the dimly lighted room, upon the door of which they read "Walk in, back in five minutes."

—The piazza around the Fall style of shoe is a little broader than those built in the Summer. A pair of second hand, "high toned" shoes will be just the thing to put in a barrel of old clothes for a frontier missionary to use as snow shoes, as he goes across lots about his parish during the coming Winter.

THE TIMES ON THE PANIC.

LONDON, Oct. 3—5 A. M.—The Times this morning in an editorial retrospective of the late American financial panic says the recklessness and dishonesty lately characterizing the management of some of the greatest undertakings in America have induced chronic nervousness, momentarily liable to become acute. Even Americans, says the Times, are now all smart men or daring speculators. The Times thinks the danger has disappeared for the present, but political and financial causes are liable to reproduce it at any time. A country with an immense field for enterprise and comparatively limited capital is always liable to panics. The improvements made in western communications are most useful and profitable, but may cause further trouble. The entire blame for the disaster rests upon the unsound monetary system of the country.

A RAILROAD SUIT.

Verdict Against a Railroad.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—The jury in the case of Cobb, Blaisdell & Co. versus the Illinois Central Railroad Co. to-day awarded to plaintiffs $43,560. The suit was to recover damages for delay in shipments of grain during the war.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

Headquarters During the Campaign.

UTICA, Oct 2.—The Democratic State Committee met this afternoon and organized by electing Samuel J. Tilden Chairman and Joseph Warren of Buffalo Secretary.

The following Executive Committee was appointed: John Fox of New York, William A. Fowler of Kings, Harris G. Rodgers of Broome, W. W. Gordon of Delaware, Jarvis Lord of Monroe and Henry A. Richmond of Genessee. The committee unanimously passed a resolution fixing the headquarters of the committee at Albany, and appointed a meeting at Albany for Thursday, 9th inst., at 12 o'clock noon, at the Delevan House, to which meeting candidates and others interested in the success of the ticket are understood to be invited.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

St. Louis Merchants and Certified Checks.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—A large number of merchants in this city have signed a circular to the effect that they will receive certified checks on St. Louis banks in payment of any indebtedness or for any goods or supplies of any kind that may be wanted. It is believed that this will restore confidence in all departments of trade and give an impetus to business.

NOTHING NEW IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Nothing particularly new in financial matters. Things are working quietly among the bankers. General markets are recovering from the depression and the demand for some definite action relative to early currency resumption is increasing.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Petition to Throw Jay Gould & Co. into Bankruptcy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—To-day a petition was filed in the Supreme Court for the District of Columbia in the name of Clifford Arrick against Jay Cooke and other members of the firm to force them into involuntary bankruptcy. The petition sets forth that the firm is indebted to him in the amount of $105,000 on certificates of deposit bearing five per cent interest, and charges the act of bankruptcy as follows:

On the 20th of September, being possessed of large amounts of real estate in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the District of Columbia, they did make an assignment of all their real estate lying elsewhere than in Pennsylvania to S. Morehead, a member of the firm. Second, that on the 18th of September they stopped payment of their commercial paper. Third, that on the 18th of September, being possessed of bills, gold, silver and copper and being aware that a legal process had been issued or was about to be issued, they concealed and removed said money. Fourth, that on the 18th of September they suspended payment. Fifth, that on the 18th of September, being then bankrupts, they did make payments of money, to certain parties to the petitioner unknown, on the plea that they were special depositors, in order to give them preference over other depositors and defeat and delay the act of bankruptcy.

The petition was presented to Judge Humphrey, who granted the usual warrant requiring the parties to appear on Friday, October 10th, and answer why they should not be adjudged bankrupts.

YELLOW FEVER.

Twelve Deaths at Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 2.—Twelve deaths from yellow fever to-day. The Mayor of Marshall, Texas, denies the report that yellow fever prevails there.

AN APPEAL FROM MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 2.—Forty-one interments to-day, twenty-seven from yellow fever.

At a meeting of the Citizens' Executive Committee to-day the following appeal was made to the country for aid:

TO THE CHARITABLE THROUGH MAYORS OF CITIES IN THE UNITED STATES:—The yellow fever is increasing daily. Sickness and death prevail upon every side and business is suspended. For the sake of suffering humanity send moneyed relief at once to our city. The treasuries of all our charitable societies have exhausted their resources and private charity itself is almost exhausted. Memphis has always promptly responded to the calls of the distressed in other cities. She asks their assistance in return to relieve her dire distresses. The occasion is so deplorable that we make this appeal without hesitation, but lament the necessity. Money is what we need to pay nurses, to buy food, to bury the dead and to shelter the orphans and helpless.

Direct by telegraph to
JOHN JOHNSTON,
Mayor of the City of Memphis,
A. D. LANGSLAFF, President Howard Association,
J. J. BUSLEY, Chairman Citizens' Executive Committee,
A. E. FRANKLAND, Secretary Citizens' Executive Committee,
G. G. LONSDALE, JAS. ELDER and J. J. MURPHY.

There is much bitter feeling toward absent rich citizens who contributed nothing to aid in expelling the disease but have left the poorer classes to bear the burden.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the Middle Atlantic States easterly winds, cloudy and threatening weather. From New England to the lower lakes northwesterly winds, cooler and clear weather.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Ticket Nominated.

UTICA, Oct. 2.—The Democratic State Convention met at 10 o'clock this forenoon. Mr. Sullivan of New York, from the Committee on Resolutions, submitted the following:

Resolved, That the Democrats of the state of New York invite the co-operation of all citizens who agree with them in the following fundamental principles enunciated by Thomas Jefferson: Equal and exact justice to all men of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political. The support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent adminstrators of our domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against anti-Republican tendencies. The preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad. A zealous care of the right of election by the people and absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority. The supremacy of the civil over the military authority. Economy in public expenses that labor may be lightly burdened. The honest payment of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith. The diffusion of information and the arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason; freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. That special legislation favoring private interests are inimical to the public welfare, and that the granting of subsidies by the general and state governments and the bonding of cities, towns and villages inland, and of railroad and other corporations, is wrong in principle, corrupting in tendency, and ought to cease. We condemn and denounce the salary grab and all Congressmen, Democrats or Republicans, who voted for it, or who have not renounced all share in the plunder seized for services already done and paid for. We condemn and denounce the President's signature to the bill which clinched this iniquity, and which gave $5,000 to each congressman, while procuring $100,000 for himself after Congress had just refused to increase his salary, and we demand its repeal. We condemn and denounce as utterly unworthy the people's confidence the Republican party for having permitted the Credit Mobilier frauds to pass unpunished, in which its two vice Presidents, more than one of its United States Senators and its five chairmen of five chief committees of the house of representatives were guilty participants, and the two foremost defenders of which have been rewarded by that party's head, one with a foreign mission, and one with the use of federal patronage to elect him governor of a neighboring state. We condemn as utterly unworthy the people's confidence the Republican party which in this state assisted a corrupt ring to grasp without an election all the powers of the city government of New York, and when the Democratic party had excluded them from its ranks and united to expel them from power, itself seized the occasion to create a new and more corrupt custom house ring on the ruins of municipal reform, and to inflict upon the tax-burdened citizens of our commercial metropolis a costly, complex and most cumbersome charter of government. We condemn and denounce the President in setting up by the bayonet a government in Louisiana not chosen by her people, having no title to authority, as a flagrant violation of the federal constitution and the rights of a sister state.

The following are the nominations:

Diedrich Willers of Seneca, Secretary of State; Asher P. Nichols of Erie, Comptroller; Judge Daniel Pratt of Onondaga, Attorney-General; Thomas Raines of Jefferson, Treasurer; Sylvanus H. Sweet of Albany, State Engineer and Surveyor; James Jackson, Jr., of Niagara, Canal Commissioner; George M. Milspaugh of Orange, State Prison Inspector.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

Inspection of Castle Garden and Ward's Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Gov. Dix and staff to-day paid a visit of inspection to Castle Garden and Ward's Island, institutions under charge of the Emigration Commission.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day a committee was appointed to organize a Tribunal of Commerce. A proposition to unite with the National Board of Trade was referred to the committee.

In the bankruptcy case of the Midland Railroad to-day the counsel for the company denied it was bankrupt and were allowed a jury trial.

In the case of Simon Kaufman against Jay Cooke & Co., in which plaintiff applies for the removal of Pitt Cooke as receiver in charge of certain property on the ground of his being an interested party and insolvent, the counsel of Cooke denied that the individual members of the firm were insolvent and the motion was denied.

Chancellor Runyon of New Jersey to-day issued an order restraining the receiver already appointed from taking charge of the State bank of New Brunswick, the subscriptions of stockholders covering all liabilities and restoring the capital stock.

RECEPTION OF THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

The reception of delegates of the Evangelical Alliance at the Young Men's Christian Association to-night was attended by an immense crowd. Flags of all nations were displayed and the names of Calvin, Knox, Wycklifie, Bunyan and Edwards were in gilt letters over the platform. Rev. Dr. Adams delivered the opening address, welcoming those present from this country and from abroad in the name of the Christian people of this country as fellow-citizens and saints of the household of God.

THE GREAT BILLIARD MATCH.

The match game of billiards between Garnier and Daly for the champion cue, 1,500 points, was played at Tammany Hall to-night. Garnier won in the 47th inning, Daly's score standing 1,224. Garnier refused to take the cue, when Daly was challenged by Cyrille Dion.

THE BROOKLYN UNION RETRACTS.

The Brooklyn Union to-day retracts the statements regarding the circulation and ownership of the New York Tribune for which the latter brought suit for libel against the Union some months ago.

YACHT RACING.

Fall Regatta of the New York Club.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The autumn regatta of the New York Yacht Club came off to-day.—The following started: Schooners—Atalanta, Alarm, Eva, Clio and Peerless. Sloops—Vision, Vixen, Ariadne, Vindex and West Wind. The Vixen was first to round the buoy, followed by the Peerless, Vision, Vindex, Clio, Ariadne, West Wind, Eva and Alarm in the order of their names. The run home was so close as to render a victory doubtful up to the last moment. The Eva came in first, winning the schooner cup, the Vision second, the Eva so close that it seemed as if time allowance might not place her ahead.

The following is the corrected time of the leading yachts:

Eva,	7 hours,	17 minutes,	21 seconds.
Clio,	7 "	26 "	56 "
Vision,	7 "	46 "	01 "
Vixen,	7 "	47 "	27 "

LARGE FIRE.

Loss Twenty Thousand Dollars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Three stills in the oil works of William King at Point Breeze were destroyed by fire to-day. Loss $20,000; partially insured.

DEATH FROM AN ACCIDENT.

Sir Samuel McDonald, Knight Templar, of D. E. Molay Commandery, of Pottsville, Pa., died to-day from injuries caused by falling down a dumb waiter passage way in the Masonic Temple yesterday while inspecting the building.

A TOWN OVERFLOWED.

Six Persons Drowned.

GALVESTON, Oct. 2.—The town of Lampases was inundated on Saturday last by a sudden rise in the creek that flows through the place. The water was so swift that some two houses were carried away, including the post-office and contents and the store of Wood & Chalson and contents. Six persons are known to have been drowned.

THE RASCALLY CHEYENNES.

Excitement over their Depredations.

DENVER, Oct. 2.—There is intense excitement among the settlers and stock men in Ark Valley, south of Pueblo, on account of the depredations committed by roving bands of Cheyenne Indians, who have already wantonly killed several hundred head of cattle. The Indians say that the white men let them rot on the plains and now they are going to kill all the cattle of the whites. Thus far no murders are reported, but the Indians have visited a number of houses and carried away blankets and anything else they desired and destroyed other property. Many families have sought safety in Pueblo. Schools have been dismissed and scouts are going over the country collecting men and arms and ammunition. The Indians will be severely punished if they can be overtaken.

COMMERCIAL REPORTS.

STOCK and MONEY MARKET.

NEW YORK, October 2.

Better feeling in financial circles to-day. Private advices report an improvement in some of the leading cities of the Union. Some bankers received telegrams from Cincinnati and other western cities to stop sending currency and in a few instances advices were received of currency flowing this way. The outflow of currency to neighboring cities was stopped in many cases to-day from the south reporting that cotton is moving more freely on certified checks and moderate amounts of currency recently received from the north. This was particularly true of Mobile, Savannah and New Orleans.—As another indication of the improved condition of affairs many leading railroads had large obligations due yesterday in the shape of interest and dividends, all of which were met promptly. The premium on greenbacks for certified checks early in the day was 2½@3, still later 1@2, with very large offerings. Money ranged ½ premium at 7 per cent. Stocks opened unsettled, became steady at 1 o'clock and closed steady and strong with an advance of ½@3½ from the lowest point of the day. The heaviest dealings were in Western Union, Lake Shore, New York Central, Pacific Mail, Northwest common and Union Pacific. Heavy business in small lots again to-day and country orders are larger to-day than yesterday. Heavy purchases of New York Central for London account. Gold carrying rates 4@7 gold to 1-32 premium. Clearings $34,500,000. Governments in active demand all day. Treasury disbursements $86,000. The Loan Committee of the Clearing House Association are now so well satisfied with the situation that they will not issue more certificates, but will begin to-morrow a gradual reduction of the amount outstanding.

Destruction of a Chimney.

The Boston Traveler has the following account of the throwing down of the great Echo chimney, so long a curiosity at Roxbury, which occurred on the 16th: A staging had been erected within the chimney to the height of one hundred and ten feet; and arches had been cut in the side, the five piers of which were mined by perpendicular and transverse drill holes of about eighteen inches in depth, numbering twenty-one, which were charged with powder, and exploded about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but so porous was the brick work that even this great number of holes was insufficient to throw out the five piers, and did but little execution. After the smoke had cleared away Mr. Robert Mason, who had charge of the mechanical work, ascended and found the staging uninjured, and soon the rubbish was cleared away, and preparations were made for another charge, which proved quite successful. This time five kegs of powder were used, and when prepared Mr. Mason came down fifty feet, which was the length of the fuse, and lit the match, which took effect in about fifteen minutes, when one hundred and twenty-five feet of the chimney seemed lifted in the air and then crushed down to the ground almost in a perpendicular line without accident or damage of any kind. One hundred feet of the chimney still stands, but can be removed when needed without danger or trouble.

The chimney was finished about twenty-seven years ago for the Roxbury Chemical Works. Its whole hight from the level of the street was 242 feet; size of the base inside, 13 feet; size at the point of mining (110 feet from the ground,) 11 feet 2 inches; thickness of the wall at 110 feet elevation, 12 inches; size of the six arches cut out at the above elevation, 18 inches square; size of the five piers remaining between the arches, each 15 inches. The drill holes were one and a half inches in diameter, and eighteen inches deep, and were sunk in the center of the wall. The second mining was without drilling, the powder being strongly confined in position near the sides with timbers and braces, and the matches so attached that the explosion would throw a part of the powder upward to burn at an elevation as near the top of the chimney as possible. This part proved very effectual, for the top of the chimney was split apparently simultaneous with that where the powder was confined. The wall below the point of confinement was thrown out for some ten or fifteen feet. The bricks were generally separated in falling, but nearly all landed within fifty feet of the base of the chimney, the farthest off being ninety feet. The explosion lit up the whole premises, and the falling mass was clearly seen during its passage down. The effect of the explosion resembled much that of a slight earthquake, and houses in the vicinity were considerably shaken. The fall of the chimney resembled in its effects and in sound the effects of the blowing up of buildings during the great fire, and called vividly to mind that time to many.

The Westfield Suits.

The decision of the Court of Appeals in the Westfield cases: "Judgments reversed and complaints dismissed, with costs-Kelly against The Staten Island Railroad Company; Madden against The Same; Landers against The Same;" has fallen with painful surprise on all who remember the Sunday catastrophe, and shared in the unanimous reprobation of the greedy corporation which presumed to dispute the justice of compensation to the surviving sufferers and the bereaved families of those slain by their neglect. The want of jurisdiction has been the technical ground of the reversal. This defect has since the institution of the suits, been remedied by the Legislature, but further suits are probably barred by the Statute of Limitation, which requires complaint to be entered within two years of the cause. It is more than two years since the Westfield blew up. The defense did not rely on the point which has so unexpectedly turned in their favor. They pleaded first that there could be no legal contract on Sunday with their passengers, and then that it was accident, and not carelessness, which occasioned the explosion. They were worsted on both points. The jurisdiction objection was overruled by Judge Neilson, in Brooklyn. The juries disagreed in three of the six original cases, and in those appealed rendered verdicts for the full amount claimed, $5,000 each. And these judgments were confirmed by the General Term of the Brooklyn City Court.—N. Y. Times.

—It is related that a day or two ago, in Algiers, says the New Orleans Picayune, a certain citizen, currying favor with his "culled brethren," invited an ebony justice of the peace to take something in a fashionable coffee-house. The proprietor, perfectly understanding the social equality law, and not desiring to have a suit against him, poured out the liquor for the couple, and allowing the negro to drink at his bar, marched his white friend by the ear out into the yard, where he was made to imbibe, much to the amusement of all lookers-on, who heartily enjoyed the spectacle of (in the language of the barkeeper) "a white man not good enough to drink with a nigger."

—Says the Rochester Democrat: Alexander Earle, contemplating the unveiling of the bust of John Howard Payne, in Brooklyn, last Saturday, plaintively remarked that he didn't know so much about places, but as to women there was no woman like Homan, though, to be sure, she wasn't a Payne institution.

The New Masonic Temple in Philadelphia.

The following brief description of the great Masonic Temple recently dedicated in Philadelphia will be of interest to our Masonic readers:

The new Masonic Temple, on the corner of Broad and Filbert streets, in Philadelphia, is one of the finest specimens of architectural art in the country, and contains one of the largest assembly rooms in the world. The cost of the structure is $1,300,000, and it has been nearly five years in building. It is built entirely of granite outside, with brick backing, walls and arches, which are very thick and substantial. The front is of finely dressed Quincy granite; the Filbert street front is of Richmond granite, dressed, and runs to Juniper street. The Juniper and Cuthbert street fronts are of granite, the latter rough-dressed, but quite imposing in appearance. The building is three lofty stories and a basement in height. The main entrance on Broad street is modeled after the doorway of St. Mark's church in Venice, with the exception of the figures, which are symbols of the order. The Norman and Gothic styles of architecture prevail on the first and second floors, and Corinthian throughout the rest of the edifice. The meeting rooms of the Grand Lodge is the representative apartment of the temple, and the largest one in it. From an octagonal vestibule at the western end the visitor enters through massive doors, artistically constructed of walnut, with cedar sinkings and raised panels, made of mottled walnut imported from France. The work is highly polished and these panels present the appearance of marble. The furniture of the hall is of walnut and cedar, covered with blue plush. Everywhere Masonic emblems meet the eye, carved in wood or stone, or shining from stained glass windows and handsomely-cut globes. The next larger room is the Grand Chapter Hall, then follow the Egyptian Hall, the Ionic, the Norman, the Oriental and numerous other halls, for lodge meetings. The library room is situated on the second floor and is intended for use as well as ornament, and will be the repository of a complete Masonic library, if the plans of the Grand Lodge can be successfully carried out. It is the intention to gather together here every publication that can be procured which relates to Free Masonry, and especially the publications of all Masonic bodies in this country. A nucleus has already been formed, there being a considerable library that was at the old hall, while frequent purchases are made and books are presented by persons interested in the project. During 1862 about $365 were expended for Masonic works of rarity. It is the intention to keep the newspapers of Philadelphi and other cities, and also all Masonic periodical publications, on file.

The building was dedicated by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania on Friday last.

They do have such funny lawsuits over in England. One has just closed wherein Miss Warren, an old maid of independent means, sued her young page, Walter Howard, for obtaining large sums of money under false pretenses. She was sixty-four and he fifteen, and she doted on him somewhat, so that when he asked her for money to get cured of a lung difficulty, she gave it, frequently in large sums. He had no lung difficulty, however, and spent the money in unselect female society till he became a sad puppy—he wasn't old enough to be a dog—and his mother took him from Miss Warren, foreseeing that he was going to the bad. Then his venerable patron sued to recover her largess, but at the trial they pestered her fearfully by trying to prove that she had been too free in her ways with young Walter; it was shown that he used to kiss her and run into her room at all times, and go about the house singing verses which intimated that old maids would become the mothers of twins before he would cease to love, etc., all of which, as it was gradually evolved in the testimony, distressed the good woman exceedingly. As the trial progressed, the papers caricatured her, and even the bad little boys sung mean songs about her on the streets, till finally she "threw up the sponge," so to speak. Her health broke down, and she withdrew the suit, declaring that ten times the amount at issue would not tempt her to continue proceedings.

—We took the underground railway from Euston road station, and in fifteen minutes found ourself the other side of London, at the Bayswater station. This underground railway is an admirable affair. The speed, regularity, and safety of the trains make up a marvel in the way of transportation. One descends twenty or thirty steps to a dim-lit station, and finds placards as well as officials on every side directing and giving information. One hears a low roar, and in a few seconds the train glides up. It does not touch your platform, so it is not the one you want. In two seconds this train, laden with passengers, is off, and as you watch it your own glides in. Each train has first, second, and third class cars, and it is striking to see how a crowd sifts itself into place without delay and without confusion.—Sundown Cor.

MILK OF MAGNESIA.

The great discovery of the age. It will immediately and certainly relieve Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Dyspepsia and Headaches caused by sourness or accidity of the stomach or bowels. Its action as a laxative for women and children is superior to any other preparation, requiring no persuasion to induce them to take it, and if desired it may be mixed in the food or drink. This is the best, safest and most agreeable of the preparations of magnesia. Highly reccommended by physicians. Sold by druggists. Prepared by

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—Mr. E. Dodge, what 're you going to do with it? Use it?

—There were representatives from all the Western Department companies in the reception of the Wiltwycks.

—Diptheria is very prevalent in the lower portion of the city, and it appears in a very malignant form.

—Sol. Crispell's grapery is becoming the spot where riding parties bring up at this time of the year. The fruit is very luscious.

—Firing ceased at twelve o'clock. All quiet along the lines, but the boys went "marching through Georgia," eh? Oh! I'll chip.

—Funny, ain't it? Old Four, with all those old—well, dare not call 'em that, gets to the fires first and does heaps of work.

—Rather rough on an ex-Chief to wet him down; but then he didn't ought to talk so much with his mouth.

—Jimminy! Captain N. Anderson is having his carriage house painted. Have any of the falling stars struck anybody on the Lead—or otherwise?

—The New York Times alludes to Congressman Dewitt, who was a delegate to the Democratic State Convention, as "Major" Dewitt. Wonder where he won that title?

—In view of the numerous fires recently the citizens of the portion of the city in the neighborhood of Washington Hall have organized a fire patrol, and watchmen take regular turns in patroling the streets.

—There's a man claiming a residence in Flatbush who carries with him a gun loaded with a silver bullet, in order to protect himself from a certain she-witch—and the she-witch isn't very handsome, either.

—The cool spell has again weakened the flies and demoralized the mosquitoes, producing a panic among them, and most of those —well, darn 'em, confounded pests have suspended operations for this season.

—A Ponckhockie gentleman brought a Chinese poodle from New York the other day and presented it to his wife, and now they sing around that house, "Have you seen my Hanky Panky?"

—The up-town reporter of the Freeman indulges in boxing matches when business is dull. The other day a neighboring law student tackled him, and "Mac's" nose and his opponent's boxing-gloves got mixed up in such a manner that the claret flowed freely. The Freeman contains no acknowledgement of the fact.—Argus.

—Uriah Saunders says he has put out his great horse Gunpowder to public business. This business is working the Saugerties road, as Uriah remarks, so there will be no danger of the young people having their wagons overturned when in the engrossing task of making love to each other they forget to guide their horses.

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 60 canal boats laden with 7,640 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Bad Snap.

Conventions.

The Democratic Conventions to nominate Members of Assembly will be held at Clare's Hotel on the 13th and at Accord on the 15th.

"The Melancholy Days."

The days have come when people, who coming from out doors, enter a room where there is a genial and comfortable fire on the hearth, are dead sure to exclaim, "That's good—a fire really does feel good. Where'd you get that Franklin and those 'andirons?"

Large Fire in Centerville.

On Wednesday evening the large barn and cider-mill belonging to Lyman Halsted in Centerville was destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered in the hay, and is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Loss $3,000.

Correction.

At the earnest solicitation of Mr. Raschke, to whose name we prefixed the title of Prof. a few days since, we withdraw the soft impeachment, and substitute the highfalutin rank of S. M.

Religious.

Rev. Dr. Van Santvoord has accepted an invitation from the Livingston Reformed Church at Livingston on the Hudson, to supply it for a year. He will commence his services there on the third Sunday in October.

Pigeons.

The pigeons are beginning to put in an appearance hereabouts, and Hank Winne says this kind of game will soon be plentiful; and if there is anything Hank knows about it's pigeons. They are a favorite bird for poor marksmen, for pigeons are not only large but as they fly in numbers the shot can't very well miss.

Another Tug Boat.

The Hudson River Bridge Company have again changed tug boats, and have now got the Charles L. Mather to assist the sloops in boring. What has the Freeman got to say about it?—Poughkeepsie Daily News.

Well, nothing—we're almost exhausted on that subject. Ain't you like a pump—ready to suck?

Demoralized Kingstonians.

Quite a crowd was collected near the Mall in Central Park, N. Y., last Sunday, to see two Kingston boys try to ride the camel, in spite of the earnest statement of the keeper that "The camel would rather carry one at a time, gentlemen." They were at length led away by a friend, whose prominent feature was a very sad face, and who was heard to say to a bystander, "You see they have left their boarding house and have been boarding for a week at a hotel, and the only way I can account for their condition is the change of cooking."

Oh, Dear!

While we were pretty busy yesterday one of our perennial (we use that word 'cause it fits) bores, while leaning upon our arm and whispering soft nothings in our ear, droned out this: "Most agreeable of all companions is a simple, frank man, without any high pretensions to an oppressive greatness; one who loves life and understands the use of it; obliging alike at all hours, above all of a golden temper (here he wanted to borrow ten cents—luckily we happened to have it), and steadfast as an anchor—(looking very severe as he socked our stamp). For such a one I would gladly exchange the greatest genius, the most brilliant wit, the profoundest thinker. Good morning." And he went across the street and deposited our poor little ten-cent stamp with John Schnitzler. When he emerged from thence he seemed to feel better, and we were relieved from an oppressive sense of onions and bad gin.

A Row at West Shokan.

The citizens of West Shokan had their feelings highly outraged by an occurrence at the oyster supper on Tuesday evening. A load of half-civilized, half-drunk youths from Watson Hollow came in during the evening with the intention of making a muss with one Ed. Bissell. The trouble was about a young lady, who went with the latter instead of any of the others. The crowd against Bissell was a perfect mob of half-drunken and very profane youths, each one taking their turn at Bissell, but the intervention of some of the townsmen prevented bloodshed. Bissell, however, didn't seem to mind it much, but intimated he had a revolver, which he would draw if necessary.—It is gratifying to know that five of the principal rioters have been arrested. Their names are Matt. Collins, Charley Collins, John Jones, Luther Krum and Jake Davis. The Bushkillers will probably be taught decency.

An Obstinate Old Chap.

In the town of Olive near the track of the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad resides an old man by the name of Wynne. The railroad passes through lands that once belonged to the old gentleman, and he very naturally has conceived the idea the road is beholden to him for the privilege and that passing trains should pay due respect should he be on the track, which is quite often the case. Therefore no matter how shrilly the whistle is blown, the obstinate man refuses to hasten his steps and stalks off the track at his own pace. Often the engineer is forced to slow his train nearly to a stand-still so as not to run over this gentleman, and so well are these eccentricities known, whenever the train is forced to stop for any cause, such as giving away of the machinery or because of cattle being on the track, the people who reside along the route rush out frantically with white faces inquiring if "Old Wynne has been run over." So far however, Providence has spared his life to yet traverse his dangerous path and be the besetting curse of the engineers.

Paying for his Fun.

A young lawyer who says Kingston is too slow for a young man of his abilities, but denies that he is "the most promising of all the rising young lawyers of Ulster," found himself and friend last Saturday on one of the North River piers in New York. The day was warm, and the boys were amusing themselves taking a bath in the river. One had his back toward the lawyer, who told his friend he would show him some fun. He crept up behind the boy and shoved him overboard. Then to his dismay it was seen that the boy could not swim. The lawyer's friend rescued the boy with much difficulty and the aid of a rope. That afternoon a man waited upon the young lawyer and wanted to kill him, as his boy had lost his reason, &c. The friend mildly insinuated that the man could get a couple of thousand from the lawyer, who said "——, you are a good friend of mine; for Heaven's sake, buy him off. I'll give $100." The friend took the man in another room. Had the lawyer looked in he would have seen two smiling men. They came back and the friend said "he has consented to take $20," and added in an undertone, "You had better accept the terms." The $20 was paid and the man left. The lawyer turned to his friend and said, "——, your kindness shall never be forgotten; you have saved me a great deal of money and trouble." That night the lawyer assisted in spending the money. He now gets mad if any one even asks, "Could that boy swim?"

—Virgil Miller is a bad darkey who has been arrested in Newburgh for stealing. He is one of the worst criminals that has been seen before the city court in many a day. He remarked that the stolen property hid away would be of service to him when he got out of Sing Sing, a place that he said he had been itching for. The Recorder thought he would get there this time.

—The young Christians spent Sunday in Albany jail. They had services there.

Tides.

High Water at Rondout Light House to-day at 11:30 A. M. and 12 P. M.

Tows.

The following were yesterday's tows:

Steamer Baltic—Barges Trust, Troy, Nonesuch, No. 4, scow No. 13, boats Lawrence, S. G. Mackey, Fredrick Sahr, Scraig, Blooming, Ann, 1 Penn. Co.'s boat, boat Tanner from Coeymans for Albany.

Steamer North—Boats Mary, W. J. Smith, Trader, 8 Penn. Co.'s boats, 1 Del. & Hud. Co.'s boat for Newburgh.

Steamer Marshall—Barge Col. Pratt, 28 Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats for New York.

Steamer Columbia—Chunker No. 11, 2 Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats, 10 Penn. Co.'s boats for Hudson.

Up tows from New York:

Boats D. A. Anderson, Twaalfskill, Star, O. C. DeWitt to Saugerties, ice barge Patchin, schooners A. Hayford, Eveline, Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats and barges.

COUNTY.

—The New Paltz village hall is to be repaired.

—New Paltz is becoming rural. A partridge was shot in the dooryard of Josiah J. Hasbrouck last week.

—Jonas F. Atkins is still after the sheriff's office, and is also building a new house at Ohioville.

—A meeting of Temperance delegates is called for the 20th of this month at the rooms of Wiltwyck Division.

VICINITY.

—Dogs are making havoc among the sheep in Fishkill.

The Thomas Powell, with its new shaft, resumed its trips Wednesday night.

—Presiding Elder Wakeley has been lecturing at Delhi.

—Newburgh had a big firemen's parade, nine home companies and five visiting companies.

—Warren village, Haverstraw, votes on the introduction of water on the 9th.

—A seven-year old boy in Pawling has raised a two pound tomato in his own garden.

—The Rhinebeck Gazette is after a young man who gets asleep in church. Put some pepper in the sermon.

—A bogus conductor on the Rensselaer & Saratoga R. R. during one of the Fair days cheated a lot of passengers out of their money.

—Haverstraw will stop making brick in about a week. It has been a poor season for brick-makers generally.

—A Poughkeepsie hotel proprietor has sued the Water Commissioners for damages from a bad smell from the sewer at the dock.

—Tarrytown suspects some of its "best" young men of being concerned in its recent burglaries.

—The Poughkeepsie Eagle wants those brick sidewalks abolished. Second the motion.

—The Poughkeepsie News and Eagle are now by the ears about reporting the State Fair. A truly loving pair are they.

—A correspondent of the Albany Times is very wroth because a British flag floats over one of the halls at the State Fair.

—The Clapp & Jones engine beat the Amoskeag at the State Fair, throwing 265 feet to the latter's 240.

—B. Platt Carpenter has been appointed Receiver of the Glenham Co. on the application of Gifford, Sherman & Innis.

—Hon. Mark D. Wilbur has a suit against the Poughkeepsie & Eastern R. R. for services to the amount of $25,000.

—Storm King, the grand Cornwall mount, is owned mostly by John Sossee Wood and Captain Ketcham.

—The parents of James T. Prince, seven years old, of Newburgh, want to know his whereabouts, as he has strayed away from home.

—The Newburgh Journal has adopted a new system of chronology. Its Tuesday's paper was dated Sept. 50. Such evidence of tampering with the evil thing is sad to contemplate.

—Two locomotives and thirty cars left the Dutchess & Columbia Railroad on Thursday for the High Bridge, where they were transferred to the Boston & Montreal R. R.

—The Connecticut Western Railroad, for a short one, does a large business. It is only sixty-seven miles long, yet it earned $367,960.19 for the year ending Sept. 1st.

—The car-building firm of Gilbert, Bush & Co. has partially suspended work, not on account of the panic except indirectly, but from non-receipt of orders. The railroads have probably withheld orders for cars from scarcity of money.

—The Orange county Fair takes place on the 7th, 8th and 9th. There are premiums of $200 for trotting horses on the two first days, one of $100 for double team on the latter day, and a special purse of $1,500 for Huntress and Judge Fullerton.

—The workmen in the puddling forge of the Rensselaer Iron Works have been notified that the works will be shut down from Saturday night until further advice. The rail mill may run through the winter on steel, but of this there is nothing certain. About 200 men will be thrown out of employment by the stoppage of the forge.

To the Wiltwyck Guards.

Please accept my thanks for the handsome gift received from your company Wednesday evening. McD. VAN WAGONER.

"Look Here."

Tobacco and cigars at "Panic Prices." Cigars at Three Cents, and a "stunner" for Five Cents, at Freer's, 20 Wall street.

Merchants' Protective Association.

The members of the Merchants' Protective Association are notified to meet at the office of G. R. Adams on Friday, Oct. 3d, 1873, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the reorganization of the Association.

GEO. THOMPSON, Prest.

HENRY ROUSE, Sec'y.

Reader, the merchant, druggist and grocer where you usually trade, keeps Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil for sale. If they are out, they will get a new supply at your request, but be sure and call it by its full name, and take nothing else in its stead. "It works like a charm." Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

Pianos.

I am prepared to furnish Pianos and Organs of any manufacturer at a reduced price; also second-hand Pianos for sale or rent.

E. WINTER, Book and Music Store, Music Hall, Kingston.

THE MOST UNHAPPY PERSON in the world is the Dyspeptic. Everything looks dark and gloomy; he feels "out of sorts" with himself and everybody else. Life is a burden to him. This can all be changed by taking Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron.) Cases of 27 years' standing have been cured by it.

Soda, Kissingen and Vichy Water on Draught.

Just received at KNAPP'S Drug Store, next door to the Postoffice, Garden street, Rondout.

The cheapest place to buy COMFORTERS and POUND CALICOS is at Isidore Forst's, Abeel street.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—A Tennessee temperance lecturer keeps a bar-room.

—The six chief officers of the Erie Railroad divide $80,000 salary per annum.

—A sufferer suggests an improvement in the orthography of the word panics. He thinks it would be better to spell it paynix!

—Chief Justice Gray of Massachusetts is riding horseback through his rural circuit—a good example for professional men.

—The Duluth Herald affirms that the Lake Superior and Mississippi and the Minnesota divisions of the Northern Pacific are paying more than running expenses.

—A squirrel hunt is organizing in Syracuse this week, with ten on a side. The squirrels will also take sides. They will be on the opposite side of the tree.

—Says the Utica Observer: "A worthy father in Lewis County stopped his paper because his children read so much. He said it had been $50 damage to him in one year. Where are the missionaries?

—Eighty seats have been reserved for the representatives of the press at Marshal Bazaine's trial. Over 650 demands for seats have been made by Paris, provincial, and foreign journals. An official shorthand report will probably be published.

—Bowen has sold the Brooklyn Union to a joint stock company of local politicians and capitalists, and talks of selling the Independent also, and going to Europe for a long residence with his family. Which is a very sensible thing for him to do.

—After taking a drink of carbolic acid, mistaking it for brandy, the other day, Mr. Clapp, of Menosha, Wis., threw his arms around his wife's neck and died in two minutes. It required a lever to free the woman from his embrace.

—G. G. Lyon, president of a Chicago publishing company, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a locomotive, the other day. He was the originator of the national system of Sunday school lessons. Ill health and mental depression led to the fatal act.

—Another member of the Nebraska Legisture has bought him a new buckskin suit, and will proceed to scalp the pockets of the people as a "Scout of the Prairie." Ed. Parker is his name, and Ned Buntline is to be his bear leader.

—A lager beer house in Hudson county, N. J., was formerly a church. The shrewd Teuton who now keeps it was about to erease an inscription painted over the door, but on second thoughts he left the last line untouched. It is: "Let him who is athirst come."

—A recent visitor to Rhode Island has ascertained that Napoleon lied when he said "that Providence was on the side of the heaviest artillery;" for the heaviest artillery is at Fort Adams, and Providence is on the other side.

—A telegraph operator at Elmira, last month, summoned a doctor from Wellsburgh, thus: "Come at once to see procession of Carrie Spencer's Menagerie." The message, when "repeated," read, "Come at once with prescription—case of cerebro-spinal-meningitis."

—A novel entertainment was given at Dexter park, Chicago, Saturday, being a Gretna Green elopement represented to the life, with all the detail of furious parents, impetuous flight—with real stage coaches—and the final triumph of the young folks. It was acted by theatrical people, and one or two genuine marriages were performed at the close to give it an air of reality.

—Talmage's latest: I do not believe that the power of Christian song has yet been fully tried. I believe that if you would roll the Old Hundred and the doxology through Wall street, it would put an end to the panic! I believe that the discords and the sorrows and the sins of the world are to be swept out by a heaven-born hallelujah.

—One of the largest conferences in the country is the California Conference. It is about eight hundred miles in length and from one hundred and fifty to two hundred miles in breadth, and contains an area of over one hundred and twenty thousand square miles. Some of the preachers are obliged to travel over three hundred miles to attend its sessions. About one hundred and fifty ministers constitute the body, and hence its sessions must be held in some populous town.

—The country is expected to take comfort in the sending to the White House, from Jay Cooke's Washington banking-house, on the morning of his failure, of a "little tin box." The inference is that the box contained the papers of the President, which were stored for safe-keeping, and perhaps the amount of his deposit. Can the President afford to accept a present of that kind? Must he not, in simple honor and manhood, insist upon being placed upon terms of perfect equality with the other depositors?—Cincinnati Commercial.

—The Batavia Times tells a story of a colt in Pembroke, two months old, climbing a stairway of fifteen steps, crossing a hay-mow, clambering out of a window upon the roof of a shed, and thence to the peak of the main barn; after a short inspection of the surrounding scenery it returned to the shed and jumped to the ground, a distance of fourteen feet, receiving no injury. That precocious brute's future career will be watched with deep interest.

—A minister had a negro in his family. One Sunday, when he was preaching, he happened to look in the pew where the negro was, and could hardly contain himself as he saw the negro, who could not read or write a word, scribbling away most industriously. After meeting he said to the negro: "Tom, what were you doing in church?" "Taking notes, massa; all de gemmen take notes." "Bring your notes here and let me see them." Tom brought his notes, which looked more like Chinese than English. "Why, Tom, this is all nonsense." "I thought so, massa, all the time that you was preaching it."

—Thursday afternoon while the military were passing the new capitol at Albany, some six hundred of the employees, including stone-cutters, masons, blacksmiths, laborers, etc., left their work and ran out of the gates to see the procession. General Superintendent McAlpine, who witnessed the act, immediately discharged all who did so, bosses and all. Friday morning at roll call Mr. McAlpine stated that he had reinstated all who were discharged, but if the offense were again committed he could not lightly pass it over as a few moments from the time of each of so many men amounted to considerable in the aggregate.

—At the trial of a case during the late Assizes at Liverpool, after it had proceeded for about two hours, the Judge, observing signs of mystification among the jury, asked them if they understood the case, to which they replied they did not in the least. The Judge said he could not either, and was completely in the dark as to what it was about. The learned Judge, in summing, characterized the whole case as "ridiculous from beginning to end." The jury were convinced that the evidence was so unsatisfactory that they could not give a verdict.

—The New Orleans Herald gives this sketch of Cæsar Antoine, the coal-black acting Governor of Louisiana: "His habiliments are in the latest French style, and his appearance always neat and genteel, and his bearing by no means presumptuous or self-sufficient.—Without the dash and art of Pinchback, he is also free from the flashiness and rowdy air of that sporting character. Without the dignity and port, he is also free from the austere and chilling grandeur of the lamented Dunn. Altogether, then, Antoine is rather an engaging individual, and an improvement on his ancestors. He is, too, one of us, knows our ways, and has some sympathies for even his unfortunate white subjects."

If you want a first-class galvanized pipe, well warranted not to freeze, call upon JOHN FARRELL, house corner Prospect and Liberty street, Kingston.

HOW TO LIGHTEN WOMAN'S LABOR.—If "time is money," then everything that tends to facilitate labor is a positive pecuniary benefit to mankind. The best sewing machine or churn is not a "good strong woman," as experience proves. So Sapolio, in enabling one woman to easily do as much cleaning of every kind in one day as two women can do in two days with the scrubbing brush and soap, is a positive blessing to the human race. No woman who has once used it will ever use anything else as a substitute. Sold by all dealers. The cheapest as well as best cleansing substance in the world.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.—Sealed proposals will be received until Friday, October 3d, 1873, at the office of T. H. Tremper for the grading of Henry street, from Union avenue to Pine street, to its full width, according to the ordinance passed by the Common Council Sept. 12th, 1873. Bids must state the price per cubic yard for excavation and also for filling, in case the filling exceeds the excavation. The city reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

THOMAS H. TREMPER,
JOHN DERRENBACHER,
GEORGE BUG,
A. H. VANDLING, Committee.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Democratic Republican Electors of the County of Ulster, and all others who are willing to co-operate with them in the restoration of pure and economical Government, Local, State and Federal, and who condemn monopoly and centralization, are requested to elect three delegates from each of the towns of said county, and three delegates from each of the Supervisors' Departments of the City of Kingston, composed of one delegate from each of the wards of said departments, to a County Convention to be held at the Court House, in the city of Kingston, on TUESDAY, OCT. 14th, 1873, at 12 o'clock noon, to nominate County Officers, to elect six delegates to the Democratic Senatorial Convention, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Dated September 29, 1873.

JOHN W. KERR, Chairman Dem. Central Com.

JAS. R. FOLAND, Secretary.

AUTUMN IS AT THE DOOR!

THE FALL SEWING MUST BE COMMENCED?

Are You Properly Prepared?

We cannot offer you much in way of STITCHES, but are on hand to help you efficiently as possible by furnishing the

for outfits for your girls, clothing for your boys and all the various articles demanded for family comfort, housekeeping conveniences and the pleasant equipment of home. Our plans for the fall are:

To Keep a Better Stock

Than usual, to push our trade in handsome and substantial goods as rapidly as demand will justify, and to stand fast by the honored principle that has made our store popular and our business successful, viz.:

ONE PRICE TO ALL

And the fair truth as to quality of what we sell.

At the opening of the fall season we take occasion to correct some evident misapprehension as to our style of TRUSTING. We are not disposed to make

"CAST IRON RULES"

as to trade made by any of our well-known customers, and it is our wish and our interest to be obliging to all, but we MUST be understood as positively determined

NOT TO DO A CREDIT BUSINESS!

Such of our reliable customers as find the usual Thirty days a convenience, are entirely welcome to the time, if payment is promptly made, but we make no offer of running accounts and cannot consent to do anything but a strictly

CASH BUSINESS.

This is simply just to our trade and aside from convenience to ourselves, the maintenance of the principle is of real importance to our customers, for we cannot sell goods at the very close margins we now make if our profits are to be cut down by losses sure to come with any general credit trade.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—Mr. E. Dodge, what 're you going to do with it? Use it?

—There were representatives from all the Western Department companies in the reception of the Wiltwycks.

—Diptheria is very prevalent in the lower portion of the city, and it appears in a very malignant form.

—Sol. Crispell's grapery is becoming the spot where riding parties bring up at this time of the year. The fruit is very luscious.

—Firing ceased at twelve o'clock. All quiet along the lines, but the boys went "marching through Georgia," eh? Oh! I'll chip.

—Funny, ain't it? Old Four, with all those old—well, dare not call 'em that, gets to the fires first and does heaps of work.

—Rather rough on an ex-Chief to wet him down; but then he didn't ought to talk so much with his mouth.

—Jimminy! Captain N. Anderson is having his carriage house painted. Have any of the falling stars struck anybody on the head—or otherwise?

—The New York Times alludes to Congressman Dewitt, who was a delegate to the Democratic State Convention, as "Major" Dewitt. Wonder where he won that title?

—In view of the numerous fires recently the citizens of the portion of the city in the neighborhood of Washington Hall have organized a fire patrol, and watchmen take regular turns in patroling the streets.

—There's a man claiming a residence in Flatbush who carries with him a gun loaded with a silver bullet, in order to protect himself from a certain she-witch—and the she-witch isn't very handsome, either.

—The cool spell has again weakened the flies and demoralized the mosquitoes, producing a panic among them, and most of those —well, darn 'em, confounded pests have suspended operations for this season.

—A Ponckhockie gentleman brought a Chinese poodle from New York the other day and presented it to his wife, and now they sing around that house, "Have you seen my Hanky Panky?"

—The up-town reporter of the Freeman indulges in boxing matches when business is dull. The other day a neighboring law student tackled him, and "Mac's" nose and his opponent's boxing-gloves got mixed up in such a manner that the claret flowed freely. The Freeman contains no acknowledgement of the fact.—Argus.

—Uriah Saunders says he has put out his great horse Gunpowder to public business. This business is working the Saugerties road, as Uriah remarks, so there will be no danger of the young people having their wagons overturned when in the engrossing task of making love to each other they forget to guide their horses.

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 60 canal boats laden with 7,640 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Bad Snap.

Conventions.

The Democratic Conventions to nominate Members of Assembly will be held at Clare's Hotel on the 13th and at Accord on the 15th.

"The Melancholy Days."

The days have come when people, who coming from out doors, enter a room where there is a genial and comfortable fire on the hearth, are dead sure to exclaim, "That's good—a fire really does feel good. Where'd you get that Franklin and those 'andirons?"

Large Fire in Centerville.

On Wednesday evening the large barn and cider-mill belonging to Lyman Halsted in Centerville was destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered in the hay, and is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Loss $3,000.

Correction.

At the earnest solicitation of Mr. Raschke, to whose name we prefixed the title of Prof. a few days since, we withdraw the soft impeachment, and substitute the highfalutin rank of S. M.

Religious.

Rev. Dr. Van Santvoord has accepted an invitation from the Livingston Reformed Church at Livingston on the Hudson, to supply it for a year. He will commence his services there on the third Sunday in October.

Pigeons.

The pigeons are beginning to put in an appearance hereabouts, and Hank Winne says this kind of game will soon be plentiful; and if there is anything Hank knows about it's pigeons. They are a favorite bird for poor marksmen, for pigeons are not only large but as they fly in numbers the shot can't very well miss.

Another Tug Boat.

The Hudson River Bridge Company have again changed tug boats, and have now got the Charles L. Mather to assist the sloops in boring. What has the Freeman got to say about it?—Poughkeepsie Daily News.

Well, nothing—we're almost exhausted on that subject. Ain't you like a pump—ready to suck?

Demoralized Kingstonians.

Quite a crowd was collected near the Mall in Central Park, N. Y., last Sunday, to see two Kingston boys try to ride the camel, in spite of the earnest statement of the keeper that "The camel would rather carry one at a time, gentlemen." They were at length led away by a friend, whose prominent feature was a very sad face, and who was heard to say to a bystander, "You see they have left their boarding house and have been boarding for a week at a hotel, and the only way I can account for their condition is the change of cooking."

Oh, Dear!

While we were pretty busy yesterday one of our perennial (we use that word 'cause it fits) bores, while leaning upon our arm and whispering soft nothings in our ear, droned out this: "Most agreeable of all companions is a simple, frank man, without any high pretensions to an oppressive greatness; one who loves life and understands the use of it; obliging alike at all hours, above all of a golden temper (here he wanted to borrow ten cents—luckily we happened to have it), and steadfast as an anchor—(looking very severe as he socked our stamp). For such a one I would gladly exchange the greatest genius, the most brilliant wit, the profoundest thinker. Good morning." And he went across the street and deposited our poor little ten-cent stamp with John Schnitzler. When he emerged from thence he seemed to feel better, and we were relieved from an oppressive sense of onions and bad gin.

A Row at West Shokan.

The citizens of West Shokan had their feelings highly outraged by an occurrence at the oyster supper on Tuesday evening. A load of half-civilized, half-drunk youths from Watson Hollow came in during the evening with the intention of making a muss with one Ed. Bissell. The trouble was about a young lady, who went with the latter instead of any of the others. The crowd against Bissell was a perfect mob of half-drunken and very profane youths, each one taking their turn at Bissell, but the intervention of some of the townsmen prevented bloodshed. Bissell, however, didn't seem to mind it much, but intimated he had a revolver, which he would draw if necessary.—It is gratifying to know that five of the principal rioters have been arrested. Their names are Matt. Collins, Charley Collins, John Jones, Luther Krum and Jake Davis. The Bushkillers will probably be taught decency.

An Obstinate Old Chap.

In the town of Olive near the track of the N. Y., K. & S. Railroad resides an old man by the name of Wynne. The railroad passes through lands that once belonged to the old gentleman, and he very naturally has conceived the idea the road is beholden to him for the privilege and that passing trains should pay due respect should he be on the track, which is quite often the case. Therefore no matter how shrilly the whistle is blown, the obstinate man refuses to hasten his steps and stalks off the track at his own pace. Often the engineer is forced to slow his train nearly to a stand-still so as not to run over this gentleman, and so well are these eccentricities known, whenever the train is forced to stop for any cause, such as giving away of the machinery or because of cattle being on the track, the people who reside along the route rush out frantically with white faces inquiring if "Old Wynne has been run over." So far however, Providence has spared his life to yet traverse his dangerous path and be the besetting curse of the engineers.

Paying for his Fun.

A young lawyer who says Kingston is too slow for a young man of his abilities, but denies that he is "the most promising of all the rising young lawyers of Ulster," found himself and friend last Saturday on one of the North River piers in New York. The day was warm, and the boys were amusing themselves taking a bath in the river. One had his back toward the lawyer, who told his friend he would show him some fun. He crept up behind the boy and shoved him overboard. Then to his dismay it was seen that the boy could not swim. The lawyer's friend rescued the boy with much difficulty and the aid of a rope. That afternoon a man waited upon the young lawyer and wanted to kill him, as his boy had lost his reason, &c. The friend mildly insinuated that the man could get a couple of thousand from the lawyer, who said "——, you are a good friend of mine; for Heaven's sake, buy him off. I'll give $100." The friend took the man in another room. Had the lawyer looked in he would have seen two smiling men. They came back and the friend said "he has consented to take $20," and added in an undertone, "You had better accept the terms." The $20 was paid and the man left. The lawyer turned to his friend and said, "——, your kindness shall never be forgotten; you have saved me a great deal of money and trouble." That night the lawyer assisted in spending the money. He now gets mad if any one even asks, "Could that boy swim?"

—Virgil Miller is a bad darkey who has been arrested in Newburgh for stealing. He is one of the worst criminals that has been seen before the city court in many a day. He remarked that the stolen property hid away would be of service to him when he got out of Sing Sing, a place that he said he had been itching for. The Recorder thought he would get there this time.

—The young Christians spent Sunday in Albany jail. They had services there.

Up tows from New York:

Boats D. A. Anderson, Twaalfskill, Star, O. C. DeWitt to Saugerties, ice barge Patchin, schooners A. Hayford, Eveline, Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats and barges.

COUNTY.

—The New Paltz village hall is to be repaired.

—New Paltz is becoming rural. A partridge was shot in the dooryard of Josiah J. Hasbrouck last week.

—Jonas F. Atkins is still after the sheriff's office, and is also building a new house at Ohioville.

—A meeting of Temperance delegates is called for the 20th of this month at the rooms of Wiltwyck Division.

VICINITY.

—Dogs are making havoc among the sheep in Fishkill.

The Thomas Powell, with its new shaft, resumed its trips Wednesday night.

—Presiding Elder Wakeley has been lecturing at Delhi.

—Newburgh had a big firemen's parade, nine home companies and five visiting companies.

—Warren village, Haverstraw, votes on the introduction of water on the 9th.

—A seven-year old boy in Pawling has raised a two pound tomato in his own garden.

—The Rhinebeck Gazette is after a young man who gets asleep in church. Put some pepper in the sermon.

—A bogus conductor on the Rensselaer & Saratoga R. R. during one of the Fair days cheated a lot of passengers out of their money.

—Haverstraw will stop making brick in about a week. It has been a poor season for brick-makers generally.

—A Poughkeepsie hotel proprietor has sued the Water Commissioners for damages from a bad smell from the sewer at the dock.

—Tarrytown suspects some of its "best" young men of being concerned in its recent burglaries.

—The Poughkeepsie Eagle wants those brick sidewalks abolished. Second the motion.

—The Poughkeepsie News and Eagle are now by the ears about reporting the State Fair. A truly loving pair are they.

—A correspondent of the Albany Times is very wroth because a British flag floats over one of the halls at the State Fair.

—The Clapp & Jones engine beat the Amoskeag at the State Fair, throwing 265 feet to the latter's 240.

—B. Platt Carpenter has been appointed Receiver of the Glenham Co. on the application of Gifford, Sherman & Innis.

—Hon. Mark D. Wilbur has a suit against the Poughkeepsie & Eastern R. R. for services to the amount of $25,000.

—Storm King, the grand Cornwall mount, is owned mostly by John Sossee Wood and Captain Ketcham.

—The parents of James T. Prince, seven years old, of Newburgh, want to know his whereabouts, as he has strayed away from home.

—The Newburgh Journal has adopted a new system of chronology. Its Tuesday's paper was dated Sept. 50. Such evidence of tampering with the evil thing is sad to contemplate.

—Two locomotives and thirty cars left the Dutchess & Columbia Railroad on Thursday for the High Bridge, where they were transferred to the Boston & Montreal R. R.

—The Connecticut Western Railroad, for a short one, does a large business. It is only sixty-seven miles long, yet it earned $367,960.19 for the year ending Sept. 1st.

—The car-building firm of Gilbert, Bush & Co. has partially suspended work, not on account of the panic except indirectly, but from non-receipt of orders. The railroads have probably withheld orders for cars from scarcity of money.

—The Orange county Fair takes place on the 7th, 8th and 9th. There are premiums of $200 for trotting horses on the two first days, one of $100 for double team on the latter day, and a special purse of $1,500 for Huntress and Judge Fullerton.

—The workmen in the puddling forge of the Rensselaer Iron Works have been notified that the works will be shut down from Saturday night until further advice. The rail mill may run through the winter on steel, but of this there is nothing certain. About 200 men will be thrown out of employment by the stoppage of the forge.

To the Wiltwyck Guards.

Please accept my thanks for the handsome gift received from your company Wednesday evening. McD. VAN WAGONER.

Merchants' Protective Association.

The members of the Merchants' Protective Association are notified to meet at the office of G. R. Adams on Friday, Oct. 3d, 1873, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the reorganization of the Association.

GEO. THOMPSON, Prest.

HENRY ROUSE, Sec'y.

Reader, the merchant, druggist and grocer where you usually trade, keeps Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil for sale. If they are out, they will get a new supply at your request, but be sure and call it by its full name, and take nothing else in its stead. "It works like a charm." Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

Pianos.

I am prepared to furnish Pianos and Organs of any manufacturer at a reduced price; also second-hand Pianos for sale or rent.

E. WINTER, Book and Music Store, Music Hall, Kingston.

THE MOST UNHAPPY PERSON in the world is the Dyspeptic. Everything looks dark and gloomy; he feels "out of sorts" with himself and everybody else. Life is a burden to him. This can all be changed by taking Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron.) Cases of 27 years' standing have been cured by it.

Soda, Kissingen and Vichy Water on Draught.

Just received at KNAPP'S Drug Store, next door to the Postoffice, Garden street, Rondout.

The cheapest place to buy COMFORTERS and POUND CALICOS is at Isidore Forst's, Abeel street.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—A Tennessee temperance lecturer keeps a bar-room.

—The six chief officers of the Erie Railroad divide $80,000 salary per annum.

—A sufferer suggests an improvement in the orthography of the word panics. He thinks it would be better to spell it paynix!

—Chief Justice Gray of Massachusetts is riding horseback through his rural circuit—a good example for professional men.

—The Duluth Herald affirms that the Lake Superior and Mississippi and the Minnesota divisions of the Northern Pacific are paying more than running expenses.

—A squirrel hunt is organizing in Syracuse this week, with ten on a side. The squirrels will also take sides. They will be on the opposite side of the tree.

—Says the Utica Observer: "A worthy father in Lewis County stopped his paper because his children read so much. He said it had been $50 damage to him in one year. Where are the missionaries?

—Eighty seats have been reserved for the representatives of the press at Marshal Bazaine's trial. Over 650 demands for seats have been made by Paris, provincial, and foreign journals. An official shorthand report will probably be published.

—Bowen has sold the Brooklyn Union to a joint stock company of local politicians and capitalists, and talks of selling the Independent also, and going to Europe for a long residence with his family. Which is a very sensible thing for him to do.

—After taking a drink of carbolic acid, mistaking if for brandy, the other day, Mr. Clapp, of Menosha, Wis., threw his arms around his wife's neck and died in two minutes. It required a lever to free the woman from his embrace.

—G. G. Lyon, president of a Chicago publishing company, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a locomotive, the other day. He was the originator of the national system of Sunday school lessons. Ill health and mental depression led to the fatal act.

—Another member of the Nebraska Legisture has bought him a new buckskin suit, and will proceed to scalp the pockets of the people as a "Scout of the Prairie." Ed. Parker is his name, and Ned Buntline is to be his bear leader.

—A lager beer house in Hudson county, N. J., was formerly a church. The shrewd Teuton who now keeps it was about to erease an inscription painted over the door, but on second thoughts he left the last line untouched. It is: "Let him who is athirst come."

—A recent visitor to Rhode Island has ascertained that Napoleon lied when he said "that Providence was on the side of the heaviest artillers;" for the heaviest artillery is at Fort Adams, and Providence is on the other side.

—A telegraph operator at Elmira, last month, summoned a doctor from Wellsburgh, thus: "Come at once to see procession of Carrie Spencer's Menagerie." The message, when "repeated," read, "Come at once with prescription—case of cerebro-spinal-meningitis."

—A novel entertainment was given at Dexter park, Chicago, Saturday, being a Gretna Green elopement represented to the life, with all the detail of furious parents, impetuous flight—with real stage coaches—and the final triumph of the young folks. It was acted by theatrical people, and one or two genuine marriages were performed at the close to give it an air of reality.

—Talmage's latest: I do not believe that the power of Christian song has yet been fully tried. I believe that if you would roll the Old Hundred and the doxology through Wall street, it would put an end to the panic! I believe that the discords and the sorrows and the sins of the world are to be swept out by a heaven-born hallelujah.

—One of the largest conferences in the country is the California Conference. It is about eight hundred miles in length and from one hundred and fifty to two hundred miles in breadth, and contains an area of over one hundred and twenty thousand square miles. Some of the preachers are obliged to travel over three hundred miles to attend its sessions. About one hundred and fifty ministers constitute the body, and hence its sessions must be held in some populous town.

—The country is expected to take comfort in the sending to the White House, from Jay Cooke's Washington banking-house, on the morning of his failure, of a "little tin box." The inference is that the box contained the papers of the President, which were stored for safe-keeping, and perhaps the amount of his deposit. Can the President afford to accept a present of that kind! Must he not, in simple honor and manhood, insist upon being placed upon terms of perfect equality with the other depositors?—Cincinnati Commercial.

—The Batavia Times tells a story of a colt in Pembroke, two months old, climbing a stairway of fifteen steps, crossing a hay-mow, clambering out of a window upon the roof of a shed, and thence to the peak of the main barn; after a short inspection of the surrounding scenery it returned to the shed and jumped to the ground, a distance of fourteen feet, receiving no injury. That precocious brute's future career will be watched with deep interest.

—A minister had a negro in his family. One Sunday, when he was preaching, he happened to look in the pew where the negro was, and could hardly contain himself as he saw the negro, who could not read or write a word, scribbling away most industriously. After meeting he said to the negro: "Tom, what were you doing in church?" "Taking notes, massa; all de gemmen take notes." "Bring your notes here and let me see them." Tom brought his notes, which looked more like Chinese than English. "Why, Tom, this is all nonsense." "I thought so, massa, all the time that you was preaching it."

—Thursday afternoon while the military were passing the new capitol at Albany, some six hundred of the employees, including stonecutters, masons, blacksmiths, laborers, etc., left their work and ran out of the gates to see the procession. General Superintendent McAlpine, who witnessed the act, immediately discharged all who did so, bosses and all. Friday morning at roll call Mr. McAlpine stated that he had reinstated all who were discharged, but if the offense were again committed he could not lightly pass it over as a few moments from the time of each of so many men amounted to considerable in the aggregate.

—At the trial of a case during the late Assizes at Liverpool, after it had proceeded for about two hours, the Judge, observing signs of mystification among the jury, asked them if they understood the case, to which they replied they did not in the least. The Judge said he could not either, and was completely in the dark as to what it was about. The learned Judge, in summing, characterized the whole case as "ridiculous from beginning to end." The jury were convinced that the evidence was so unsatisfactory that they could not give a verdict.

—The New Orleans Herald gives this sketch of Cæsar Antoine, the coal-black acting Governor of Louisiana: "His habiliments are in the latest French style, and his appearance always neat and genteel, and his bearing by no means presumptuous or self-sufficient.—Without the dash and art of Pinchback, he is also free from the flashiness and rowdy air of that sporting character. Without the dignity and port, he is also free from the austere and chilling grandeur of the lamented Dunn. Altogether, then, Antoine is rather an engaging individual, and an improvement on his ancestors. He is, too, one of us, knows our ways, and has some sympathies for even his unfortunate white subjects."

If you want a first-class galvanized pipe, well warranted not to freeze, call upon JOHN FARRELL, house corner Prospect and Liberty street, Kingston.

HOW TO LIGHTEN WOMAN'S LABOR.—If "time is money," then everything that tends to facilitate labor is a positive pecuniary benefit to mankind. The best sewing machine or churn is not a "good strong woman," as experience proves. So Sapolio, in enabling one woman to easily do as much cleaning of every kind in one day as two women can do in two days with the scrubbing brush and soap, is a positive blessing to the human race. No woman who has once used it will ever use anything else as a substitute. Sold by all dealers. The cheapest as well as best cleansing substance in the world.

AUTUMN IS AT THE DOOR!

THE FALL SEWING MUST BE COMMENCED?

Are You Properly Prepared?

We cannot offer you much in way of STITCHES, but are on hand to help you efficiently as possible by furnishing the

for outfits for your girls, clothing for your boys and all the various articles demanded for family comfort, housekeeping conveniences and the pleasant equipment of home. Our plans for the fall are:

To Keep a Better Stock

Than usual, to push our trade in handsome and substantial goods as rapidly as demand will justify, and to stand fast by the honored principle that has made our store popular and our business successful, viz.:

ONE PRICE TO ALL

And the fair truth as to quality of what we sell.

At the opening of the fall season we take occasion to correct some evident misapprehension as to our style of TRUSTING. We are not disposed to make

"CAST IRON RULES"

as to trade made by any of our well-known customers, and it is our wish and our interest to be obliging to all, but we MUST be understood as positively determined

NOT TO DO A CREDIT BUSINESS!

Such of our reliable customers as find the usual Thirty days a convenience, are entirely welcome to the time, if payment is promptly made, but we make no offer of running accounts and cannot consent to do anything but a strictly

CASH BUSINESS.

This is simply just to our trade and aside from convenience to ourselves, the maintenance of the principle is of real importance to our customers, for we cannot sell goods at the very close margins we now make if our profits are to be cut down by losses sure to come with any general credit trade.

GENERAL NEWS.

—A malicious Terre Hautenot substituted a paper full of white beans for the package of gum drops which another young man was going to carry to his Angelina, and the poor fellow was kept busy till three o'clock in the morning trying to explain matters.

—The San Francisco Chronicle declines to answer a correspondent who asks where Cain got his wife, because "Cain died some time before many of us were born, and such idle curiosity regarding the family affairs of a deceased person we regard as reprehensible, and calculated to offend the sanctities of domestic life."

—Lord Timothy Dexter, who sent a cargo of warming-pans to the West Indies, has an imitator in the British admiralty, which recently sent out a cargo of rice from Portsmouth to its colony on the coast of Africa, which is besieged by the Ashantees, only to find when it was too late that rice was the only article of food which abounds in that country.

—Canada eats $140,000 in value of oysters yearly and produces only $43,000 worth, paying the balance, $97,000, to the United States for bivalves. An effort is to be made to produce a full supply, the shores of New Brunswick being pronounced favorable.

—A Massachusetts editor is inclined to approve an English teacher's plan in examining schools to pass a newspaper about among the children, and require each to read from it and explain the allusion to events, institutions and persons.

—North Carolina Judges are very plain-spoken men. In charging a jury at Raleigh, recently, Judge Torgee told them that if they were satisfied the criminal should be punished with death, he would "take great pleasure in pronouncing the sentence."

—Mr. Marion, editor of the Prescott (Arizona) Miner, on the occasion of his engagement, recently, bubbled over in a joyful column of editorial, giving the young lady's name in large capitals and "spooning" over her admirable qualities and the probable felicity of their matrimonial career.

—"Tannhauser" has been burlesqued in Vienna and Austrian playgoers are pleased with the travesty. We are told that in one scene Venus, Queen Elizabeth, Desdemona, Othello, Selika, Norma, Massaniello, Henry VIII., William Tell and the Flying Dutchman meet together and sing Wagner's music.

—A Vermont man caught the small-pox, four years ago, and before the nature of the disease was known, several persons took it from exposure. They have brought a suit against him on the ground that he must have known what was the matter when he was taken sick, and it was through his carelessness that they caught the disease.

—Englishmen here, who had opportunities of knowing, tell us that Minister Adams was laughed at all over London as a man who always seemed to be smelling something bad; while Motley, our great historian, was regarded as one much given to English Lords and rather haughty to his unhappy countrymen because of their humble origin. Old Reverdy Johnson, on the contrary, was regarded with admiration, and he is a gentleman.—Don Piatt.

—The Newark Journal, which has recently made grave allegations against officials in that city has been sued by the Corporation Counsel for $20,000 damages, and the same person has also brought criminal suit against the proprietor of that paper. The paper charged the counsel with causing a man to "raise" the figures on a claim he had against the city.

—There is a time in the history of every long-dominant party when a contest arises for the ascendancy between its better and worse elements. When that time arrives in the Republican ranks, let us who believe it to be the party of the industry, intelligence and conscience of the country refused without a resolute struggle at every point to surrender it to a control which would drive from it those who sincerely hold the principles upon which it was founded.—Harper's Weekly.

S KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senant only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

GENERAL NEWS.

—A malicious Terre Hautenot substituted a paper full of white beans for the package of gum drops which another young man was going to carry to his Angelina, and the poor fellow was kept busy till three o'clock in the morning trying to explain matters.

—The San Fancisco Chronicle declines to answer a correspondent who asks where Cain got his wife, because "Cain died some time before many of us were born, and such idle curiosity regarding the family affairs of a deceased person we regard as reprehensible, and calculated to offend the sanctities of domestic life."

—Lord Timothy Dexter, who sent a cargo of warming-pans to the West Indies, has an imitator in the British admiralty, which recently sent out a cargo of rice from Portsmouth to its colony on the coast of Africa, which is beseiged by the Ashantees, only to find when it was too late that rice was the only article of food which abounds in that country.

—Canada eats $140,000 in value of oysters yearly and produces only $43,000 worth, paying the balance, $97,000, to the United States for bivalves. An effort is to be made to produce a full supply, the shores of New Brunswick being pronounced favorable.

—A Massachusetts editor is inclined to approve an English teacher's plan in examining schools to pass a newspaper about among the children, and require each to read from it and explain the allusion to events, institutions and persons.

—North Carolina Judges are very plain-spoken men. In charging a jury at Raleigh, recently, Judge Torgee told them that if they were satisfied the criminal should be punished with death, he would "take great pleasure in pronouncing the sentence."

—Mr. Marion, editor of the Prescott (Arizona) Miner, on the occasion of his engagement, recently, bubbled over in a joyful column of editorial, giving the young lady's name in large capitals and "spooning" over her admirable qualities and the probable felicity of their matrimonial career.

—"Tannhauser" has been burlesqued in Vienna and Austrian playgoers are pleased with the travesty. We are told that in one scene Venus, Queen Elizabeth, Desdemona, Othello, Selika, Norma, Massaniello, Henry VIII., William Tell and the Flying Dutchman meet together and sing Wagner's music.

—A Vermont man caught the small-pox, four years ago, and before the nature of the disease was known, several persons took it from exposure. They have brought a suit against him on the ground that he must have known what was the matter when he was taken sick, and it was through his carelessness that they caught the disease.

—Englishmen here, who had opportunities of knowing, tell us that Minister Adams was laughed at all over London as a man who always seemed to be smelling something bad; while Motley, our great historian, was regarded as one much given to English Lords and rather haughty to his unhappy countrymen because of their humble origin. Old Reverdy Johnson, on the contrary, was regarded with admiration, and he is a gentleman.—Don Piatt.

—The Newark Journal, which has recently made grave allegations against officials in that city has been sued by the Corporation Counsel for $20,000 damages, and the same person has also brought criminal suit against the proprietor of that paper. The paper charged the counsel with causing a man to "raise" the figures on a claim he had against the city.

—There is a time in the history of every long-dominant party when a contest arises for the ascendancy between its better and worse elements. When that time arrives in the Republican ranks, let us who believe it to be the party of the industry, intelligence and conscience of the country refused without a resolute struggle at every point to surrender it to a control which would drive from it those who sincerely hold the principles upon which it was founded.—Harper's Weekly.

KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

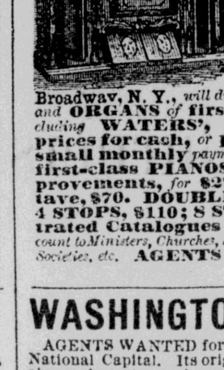

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three:

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 12, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioners of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senant only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
